

Tourism consultants asked few questions

by Sue Cooper
Staff Reporter

After receiving a list of people in the Minden area contacted by consultants of Laventhol and Howarth Management consultants during the Peterborough Haliburton Tourism Zone Study, Anson, Hindon and Minden council has passed a motion asking the Ministry of Industry and Tourism to void the study. Copies of the motion passed at a regular council meeting last Wednesday will be forwarded to MPP for Victoria/Haliburton John Eakins and industry and tourism minister Larry Grossman.

Council asked for the list of contacts two weeks earlier after expressing concern to the consultants and the ministry that it seemed no one in the area or municipal official had been contacted during the study. A list of 13 names was submitted to council. On the list were Eileen Crawford, operator of Hart Lodge (named as Mrs. Hart), Bob Levesque, of Hospitality Inn; Godfrey Saunders, Northern Eagle Tent and Trailer Park; Mary Jane Irwin, Rockwood Farm Riding Stable; Bob Jennings, Sandy Lane Resort (named as Sandy Lake); Tony Pennick, Sun Valley resort; Bob Stinson, manager Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce; Kirk Whipper, Kanawa International Canoe Museum; John Eakins, MPP; Wayne Wilson and Pat Martin, Ministry of Natural Resources; Wyn Bestwick, Huntsville District of Ministry of Industry and Tourism; and Derrell Stamp, planning supervisor of Dysart et al.

While most contacts were unaware of the magnitude of the study being undertaken by the consultants and put little importance on the interviews conducted about a year ago, one could not recall being contacted at all and two others stated they were not contacted until three weeks ago for a review of the study and how the communities accepted it.

Crawford said in a telephone interview, Monday, that she "hadn't any idea" the consultant was working on the Peterborough/Haliburton study at the time of the interview. Although the interview was conducted some time ago, Crawford remembered the emphasis was more on what was needed in the area instead of the facilities which existed.

"Certainly any information I gave her could not have been used in the study she was conducting", Crawford said. She added that it was unfortunate the Minden area had been named as the Anson Outcrop because while the name is suitable for Anson Township it does not seem to represent the remainder of the large area included. It was also "unfortunate" the study left out the Minden area, Crawford said.

Chamber of Commerce

manager, Bob Stinson was also interviewed by a consultant but during the one hour preliminary meeting he had the understanding the consultant would be returning to the chamber throughout their study to get more information. He said he gave the consultant only "superficial" information and tried to direct her to people in the area who might also be helpful. From the names on the list, Stinson said he felt she had disregarded many other people he had recommended she speak to. "It's a pretty weak looking list," he said. Stinson suggested the consultants may have spent most of their $125,000 budget in other areas before ever ar-

Consultants preparing the Peterborough - Haliburton Tourism study might have been a "little narrow minded" but they did a creditable job to encompass the broad area, steering committee member, Bill Smith says.

Smith, owner of Elephant Lake Lodge and president of the Central Ontario Tourist Association (COTA) said in a telephone interview Monday that the consultants were faced with a tough problem to cover the entire study area. But he claimed the development "nodes" suggested in the study are based on reasonable judgement. "If you just look at the facilities, the attractions, you've got to make that choice," Smith said of Haliburton village and Dorset being chosen for tourism developments rather than Minden village.

"Everything they said, I feel, is right and proper."

Smith conceded the consultants only reported on recreational activities they could relate to like skiing, sky slider rides, water skiing, sailing and other well-known activities and included little on fishing and hunting on which his successful business depends. One of the areas

Stove suspected cause of blaze in Stanhope

A woodstove is being blamed for a blaze that destroyed a one storey frame house on Maple Lake last Wednesday.

Home owners Pat and Penney Wilson and their two children were not home at the time of the blaze, which broke out shortly after noon hour.

A nearby cottager turned in the alarm, but the fire was well established before it was noticed, and firemen could do nothing to save the building or its contents.

Stanhope fire chief George Wilson said that while the blaze remains under investigation, a woodstove is thought to be the most likely cause.

"It was definitely, as far as I'm concerned, something to do with the woodstove," Wilson said. "The elbow on the stove was in very bad shape and the air vents on the front of it weren't there."

Wilson said the vents appeared to have been closed before the blaze began, but that the heat apparently melted them off. Experts at the fire marshal's office are being consulted on the matter, Wilson said.

The chief declined to give an estimate of damage, but said the couple were insured. They were reported to be staying at the home of a neighbour, Eric Edwards.

Men feared lost found in cottage

Two Minden men, missing on a snowmobile trip Monday afternoon, were found unhurt Tuesday morning.

The two, John Purc, 38, and Dick Hope 36, were expected home at 6 p.m. Monday, and when they failed to arrive, police were notified. A search began Tuesday morning using police snowmobiles, cruisers and volunteer helpers. The OPP helicopter was also called in, but it ran

Economy down, welfare up

by SUE COOPER
Staff Reporter

If welfare rolls in the county's municipalities are any indication, 1982 could be a worse winter than 1981. Although not all welfare accounts were up in January 1982, six of the nine municipalities gave more assistance than in the same month last year.

Nowhere have the effects of high unemployment been felt more than in the Improvement District of Bicroft and Cardiff township. In both areas, where welfare claims are usually low, January figures are up $1,500 to $1,800 over last year. In January 1982, Bicroft paid out $2,049.22 which is "unbelievable", clerk Sandra McColl said. In the same month last year payments were $203.20 and in 1980, $312. In March of 1980 welfare totalled only $312 and increased slightly to $395.56 in March, 1981.

Cardiff is experiencing the same dramatic increases. Payments last month were $1,784.60 while only $344.50 was requested in January, 1981 and $334.40 in January 1980. March, 1980 reflects the same low figure of $425.95 and in March 1981 welfare recipients received $606.15. Both clerks said high unemployment had contributed to the exorbitant increase. McColl also added that some recipients had not obtained enough work in the past 12 months to qualify for unemployment benefits.

Dysart et al has doubled its welfare payments over January 1981. This past month $14,611 was handed out while in 1981 only $7,731 was required. In January, 1980, $9,400 was needed to cover welfare costs while the demand dropped to $7,654 in March of that year. By March 1981 welfare had again grown to $9,953.

Monmouth, Glamorgan and Anson, Hindon and Minden have also experienced slight increases in their welfare rolls but not as drastic as the other municipalities. In January, Monmouth paid out $1249.30 in welfare benefits which is up from January, 1981 with a welfare count of $994.85. March 1981 also reflected the lower figures with a welfare payment of $343.20.

Glamorgan township welfare also increased from January 1981 when it stood at $2,846.59. In 1982 $3,060.75 was paid out. In January 1980, welfare stood at $2,476.78. Welfare payments are usually worse in that township in March, and are expected to rise above the January 1982 figure. In March, 1980 welfare payments were $2,242.88 and

Water rates to rise

Picture improves for Minden systems, councillor's changes may speed recovery

by SUE COOPER
Staff Reporter

Minden's water and sewerage system is in good financial shape and residential consumers will benefit by receiving only slight increases in their rates this year. Commercial water rates, increased last year to directly reflect usage, will remain the same, but five establishments will receive discounts. Commercial sewerage rates will be 100 per cent of the water rate.

Anson, Hindon and Minden council approved these recommendations and others presented by councillor Ed Pergolas in an in-depth study of the system's financial situation. In the submission, Pergolas said that clerk Elinor Burke and deputy clerk, Biv Millar, visit Ministry of Environment offices in Toronto to eliminate discrepancies in the systems' books.

Pergolas also presented eight suggestions to improve the sewer system that have met with the ministry's approval:

- Close the books on the 25th of each month, except for salaries (this is for smoother bookkeeping in the municipal office);

- A complete audit of Minden sewage system to discover why a gross profit of $21,101.78 exists for 1981. Pergolas said he had expected to discover approximately a $1,000 profit and was suspicious of the exorbitant amount. He suggested another billing might be forthcoming from the ministry and felt the clerk and deputy clerk could resolve this matter at the ministry. He also suggested there could have been a mistake in the books from the time they were set up.

- While the ministry tries to cover the sewer system's debentures with frontage charges, a shortage of funds might require another billing, thus lessening the gross profit for 1981. A complete audit will probably answer many questions Pergolas said.

- Charges for switching on and off the system will be increased from $5 to $15 for each visit. This increase is implemented to deter residents from turning off systems;

- Billing to the ministry of the environment will be submitted monthly instead of quarterly;

- Install a new system of accounting because the present system is too manual;

- Charge an office administration fee to the ministry of the environment;

- These recommendations will improve the municipal bookkeeping system, Pergolas said.

- The basic charge for sewer usage will be $100 per year for residential accounts. The increase is $4 more than 1981 billing.

- Commercial rates will reflect 100 percent on the water rate in order to establish a base for increase or decrease.

Mistakes discovered during the investigation in 1981 were also revealed to council. A banking error cost the sewer account $15,945.33 in interest from November 1980 until March 1981; interest of $5,611.52 was charged to the sewer account by the general fund for an unnecessary loan; and a debenture payment for the water reservoir of $10,398.98 was charged against the sewer account in error in May 1981. These funds were transferred from the general fund to erase the errors during 1981.

Good news for the water system is that it shows a gross profit of $12,769.86 for 1981. That profit will be used to cover a fifth of the over $40,000 deficit on the system

Board, CUPE settle

Two year contract raises wages $1.90

Clerical and maintenance staff of the Haliburton County Board of Education have agreed to a two year contract giving them an average 13 per cent pay increase in each year.

The agreement, ratified by the board last Tuesday night, will boost unionized employees' pay by 90 cents an hour this year and a further $1 an hour next year.

Other changes in the new contract include five weeks vacation after 20 years of service, two days of paid sick leave per month, up from 1 3/4 days in the old contract, and the inclusion of a disability plan subject to approval by at least 75 per cent of those affected.

The workers, who are members of the Canadian Union of Public Employees local 142, had sought a one year contract but agreed to a two year agreement in negotiations with the board on January 12.

Union negotiators also wanted the board to pay 100 per cent of OHIP premiums, but the subsidy rate will remain at 75 per cent.

Trustee Len Salvatori told the board that the new agreement is "a few cents higher" than one the municipality of Dysart et al worked out recently with its CUPE workers. But he added that the municipality pays 100 per cent of some benefits the board subsidizes at a lesser rate.

Union representatives began the negotiations asking for $1.35 in a one year agreement, while the board's initial offer was 65 cents an hour.

The new contract will run from January 1 of this year to December 31, 1983.

Snowarama set to go this Saturday

Riders will leave Haliburton, Minden to raise funds for disabled children

Snowmobile enthusiasts will take to the trails with a purpose this Saturday in the annual Snowarama ride for Timmy, which raises funds for Ontario's disabled youngsters.

Riders have a choice of two routes this year, beginning in Haliburton and Minden. Each will cover approximately 100 kilometres.

In past years the local ride has covered a single route and passed through both villages, but separate routes were planned this year in a bid to minimize trail damage from the expected influx of riders.

Participants who choose the Minden route will register at the community centre between 7:30 a.m. and 9:30 a.m. Each rider will be entitled to a free fuel fillup, courtesy of Gulf Oil and John Francis Fuels of Minden. Hot food will be available free of charge at the community centre for all who finish the route.

Haliburton riders will register at the high school between 8 a.m. and 10 a.m. Fuel will be supplied by Imperial Oil through local agent Giles Connelly. Food will also be available to Haliburton riders in the school's cafeteria at the end of the route.

A number of check points will be manned along both routes to validate participation cards and keep track of riders' progress. Participants are urged to stay on the groomed and marked trails to ensure that help is available in the event of breakdowns or other problems.

Pledge sheets for the ride can be picked up at retail outlets throughout the area.

'Streaker' seen

Damaged fish huts and reports of a snowmobiling 'streaker' led to a charge against a Stouffville youth last Thursday.

Police say fishermen on Kushog Lake reported that three fish huts had been damaged, and an investigation led police to a nearby cottage, where six youths were enjoying a prolonged party.

One of the group was reported to have been seen racing across the lake on a snowmobile, naked, in the sub zero cold. Confronted by the investigating officer, the youth admitted taking the ride, but insisted he was wearing underwear at the time. No charge was laid.

Another of the group, Kevin Douglas Berry, 17, of Stouffville, was charged with damaging the huts.

Vehicles collide

An Eagle Lake man was charged with failing to yield the right-of-way following a two vehicle collision last Monday.

James B. Ridgewell, 45, was turning onto Highway 121 at Robertson Road when his 1976 pickup collided with a 1971 car driven by Florence M. Walker of Snowdon Township.

Damage was estimated at $3,500.

Cruiser snowed in

The 1941 OPP cruiser that was supposed to appear in the Minden carnival parade got within a half a mile of the start, but went no farther.

Sergeant Bill Bailey and his wife Joanne were to have driven the vehicle in the parade, but when they tried to leave the detachment, they found that an overnight snowfall had made the roads treacherous. Rather than risk a mishap with the valuable auto, dubbed 'Car 1', Bailey decided to back it into the detachment garage to await better weather.

Police sieze gun

Police seized a 22 caliber rifle and ammunition after snowmobilers reported hearing a shot.

The pair, Ian Conn, 24 of Toronto and Harry Johnson, 21 of Scarborough were snowmobiling on Brady Lake Road in Hindon Township when their vehicles became stuck. A resident of a house on the other side of the road came out while they were attempting to free their machines and, they allege, pointed a rifle in their direction and ordered them away.

They reported that as they were walking away with their hands raised, they heard a shot.

Informed of the incident, police searched the residence of Joseph Campbell, 73, and seized a rifle and ammunition.

The incident remains under investigation.

Occurrences reported

A total of 77 general occurrences were investigated by Minden OPP officers in the last week. Included were six thefts, six parking complaints, three impaired drivers, three liquor infractions and three damage complaints.

There were eight reportable motor vehicle accidents and one non reportable accident. No one was injured in the mishaps.

Local men charged

Four local men were among five people charged after a series of thefts in the Harcourt area and at the Wilberforce Legion.

On Saturday morning, OPP received reports that several cars in the Harcourt Park area had been broken into. The Wilberforce Legion had also been broken into and $269 worth of alcoholic beverages taken.

Investigation revealed that sometime after the breakins took place and several hours before they were reported, Oak Ridges OPP had arrested five people in a car reported stolen from the Keswick area. Most of the stolen liquor and property from the Harcourt vehicles was recovered.

More than 30 charges ranging from auto theft, break and enter and breach of probation were laid against the five occupants of the vehicle, Murry Glen Woodcox, 20, Terry Ross Darou, 19, Stephen Joseph Elliott, 18, Robert Elmer Scott, 18, all of Wilberforce, and Barry James Gillis, 16, of Brampton.

One of the attractions that kept people who attended the Minden Kinsmen Carnival busy over the weekend was an old fashioned horse drawn sleigh ride. Space on the sleigh was at a premium throughout the day, as people took a break from other events and watched the world go by at a slower pace.

Hotel owner wants by-law amended

by SUE COOPER
Staff Reporter

A Minden businessman, who has twice been charged but never convicted under Anson, Hindon and Minden's anti-noise by-law, wants the municipality to either revoke the by-law or amend it to exempt establishments with entertainment until 1 a.m.

Dave Willis, owner of the Rockcliffe Hotel in Minden village, told council last Wednesday he has spent nearly $5,000 and at least 13 days in court fighting the by-law. "It's crazy for me to spend that kind of money. It (the by-law) is pitting people against people and business against business," Willis said.

He suggested the by-law contradicted the Liquor License Board of Ontario which allows entertainment until 1 a.m. The municipal by-law restricts noise from 12 a.m. until 9 a.m. Willis also noted that community carnivals are exempt under the by-law. (The ringing of church bells on special occasions and the operation of machinery by the public works department are also exempt).

Willis said he has attempted to comply with the by-law by hiring more "middle-of-the-road" bands instead of "hard rock" and hiring extra employees during the summer months to ensure that all doors are closed when the band is playing. The hotel has sound absorbing tiles, but the fire marshal's office ordered them replaced with three-quarter inch dry wall.

Willis said that if the hotel provided only country and western music in effort to lessen the noise, it would kill the tourist attraction aspect of the business.

Councillors appeared to favour re-examining the by-law to see if alterations might be made but most voted they were not in favour of revoking the entire by-law.

Municipal law enforcement officer Dick Schell told council the by-law is useful and stated many hours of work were needed to complete it.

Reeve Lloyd Walker said he had spoken with OPP sergeant Bill Bailey who suggested the police have laws to cover noise problems in the municipality. "I would be willing to put the by-law in the bottom drawer and forget about it," Walker said.

But deputy reeve Doug

Pritchard explained the OPP have no jurisdiction in the municipality if the anti-noise by-law exists. Schell agreed.

Willis said he was partially sorry the charges against the hotel had been dropped on technicalities because he would have enjoyed fighting the by-law to discover if it would stand up in court. He said he was particularly interested to learn if the charges, apparently laid because of electrically produced sounds, could be proven since neither the complainant or the officer laying the charges had been in the building when the charges were laid. "I think we got charged on what happens out on the street after (1 a.m.)," Willis said.

While council said it might consider exempting the area hotels until 1 a.m., it was satisfied with the township's by-law.

"We still don't have one (an anti-noise by-law) here. We've (the municipality) never won a case with it," Willis told council.

Council will meet with the OPP sergeant to outline charges for excessive noise and will read the by-law in its entirety before discussing the matter further.

Chamber nearing balloon fund goal

by SUE COOPER
Staff Reporter

The Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce is only $2,614 short of having the area advertised on the side of a hot air balloon to be flown at 16 Cadillac Fairview malls in the Toronto area.

The chamber began its campaign for $8,000 to join an advertising promotion with Sky Slider owner, Steve Bowskill, at a public meeting in Haliburton village last Tuesday evening. After a viewing of the balloon flying in the frigid air near the arena, business people and municipal representatives heard chamber manager Bob Stinson outline the project. It would cost an estimated $16,000 to rent a similar balloon to fly at the shopping malls, Stinson said. Bowskill is offering his balloon as well as a 16 foot by 28 foot sign (designed for the side of the balloon) for $8,000. The sign, 'Haliburton Highlands, Yours to Discover', will be the Chamber's property after the campaign is finished. A sign advertising the Sky Slider will be attached to the other side of the balloon. Because the program must be carried out before the summer months to ensure success, Stinson said the money has to be raised quickly. The chamber has no money in its budget for the project and made a plea to business people and municipal officials to donate to the project.

The chamber raised $4,576

during the evening with pledges coming from all areas of the county. As of Tuesday morning the chamber had received an additional $810 to bring the present total to $5,386. Stinson said he was awaiting a decision from Dysart et al council, holding a special meeting last night (after press time). Other municipalities may also donate. Last Wednesday evening, Stinson made a presentation to Anson, Hindon and Minden council but was told councillors would like to see the balloon scheduled to be at the carnival on the week-end. They were also interested in the donation given by Dysart council. Only one donation has yet been received from the municipality. Snowdon has pledged $25.

Stinson said the board will meet Wednesday night to determine if enough money has been raised to go ahead with the project.

Minden firemen ask for pagers

Anson, Hindon and Minden fire department will get a paging system, if council accepts a proposal made by fire chief Wm. (Duke) Jackson.

The system, costing approximately $6,000, would consist of 10 individual pagers, and base radio and antenna improvements, Jackson said Monday.

Province seeks extension for Lindsay/Haliburton line

The Province of Ontario has asked Canadian National Railways to retain the Lindsay/Haliburton subdivision until at least the end of April.

The province asked for an extension of CN's February 15 deadline to give it time to study the cost of acquiring the local line and several others recently abandoned.

Following an abandonment order from the Canada Transport Committee, CN sent letters to the province and local municipalities asking if they would be interested in purchasing the right-of-way once the tracks are torn up.

The railway wanted the matter closed by February 15, but the province, which has right of first refusal on the property, decided it needed more time to make a decision.

If Ontario does buy the line, there is little likelihood that the tracks would be kept in place. Instead, the land would be retained for recreational purposes, or as a possible transportation corridor in the future.

The province's gesture is supported by the Haliburton/Victoria Railway Retention Committee, formed after CN announced almost two years ago that it intended to abandon the 56 mile long line.

PUBLIC NOTICE

TRENT-SEVERN WATERWAY advises the public, when travelling our lakes and rivers for recreational or other purposes, to check the ice conditions.

Due to our annual lowering of water levels on the following lakes and rivers, to absorb some of the high water flows during spring run-off, caution should be taken during the period from January 1st to March 15, 1982.

The Lakes and Rivers referred to are Stony Lake, Buckhorn Lake, Chemong Lake, Pigeon Lake, Bobcaygeon River, Sturgeon Lake, Scugog Lake, Scugog River and Balsam Lake. On all other Lakes and Rivers on the Waterway water levels are fluctuating considerably due to winter conditions and the public should use extreme caution.

Few recall questions posed by consultants

living in Haliburton to carry out the remainder of the study. "I rather suspect that by the time they got to Haliburton their budget was running a little slim and they skimmed over it," he said.

Although Stinson said he could not comment on how other areas in the study reacted to the final product, he acknowledged there was a definite reason for Haliburton County to complain. "They are city consultants, they don't know how people make a living here. I don't think they've any idea. They don't relate."

During the study the consultants seemed to have spent most of their time reviewing previously published documents at Queen's Park, Stinson said.

Saunders said he could recall the consultants spending approximately half an hour at his establishment on Lake Kashagawigamog.

While Saunders said he didn't realize the magnitude of the study during the interview, the consultants' questions centred on the camping business and generalities of the county in its entirety. The emphasis of the interview seemed to be what was needed in the area, not on what existed, he said.

"I still don't think (the study) is that important. It's just another document that will gather dust on someone's desk," he said.

The importance of the study wasn't impressed on Irwin either, who said she might have considered her answers more carefully if she had realized the consequences of the report. The consultant who interviewed her for approximately 15 minutes seemed to have a standard list of questions, Irwin said.

Levesque also put little importance on the interview, since many consultants come to the resort during a year the study seemed like many others, he said. The general drift of the conversation seemed to relate to his accommodation business and facilities available nearby, he recalled.

Pagers sought

surplus remained at the end of 1981, Jackson told council the pagers could now be purchased. Council planned to meet last night (Tuesday) after press time, to discuss the matter.

Discussion of pagers began again last year when only two firemen responded to a house fire on Bat Lake Road.

Bob Jennings, named on the list, doesn't even remember being contacted by the consultants although he qualifies it with "to the best of my knowledge". Although he is almost positive no consultants visited his resort on Hall's Lake he concedes someone might have telephoned him, but he said it must have been a short conversation for him not to have remembered it.

"The study would have had a write-up on Hall's Lake if they had contacted me...this is the most beautiful part of the Highlands," Jennings said.

While those contacted seemed to think the consultants were remiss in not explaining the importance of the study, two people named on the consultants' list were only contacted three weeks ago, three months after the study was published. Pat Martin, of the Minden District of the MNR, said she had no contact with the consultants until district manager, Don White asked her to coordinate comments on the final report. The ministry had been requested to comment by Lavalent and Horwath, Martin said.

While the report encompasses an area which includes four ministry district offices, Martin said it appears consultants took data only from the Lindsay office and applied it to the entire area, which "created several problems with the use of data".

"We weren't really impressed," she said. Martin said the review was the first involvement she had had with the study. Wayne Wilson, another member of the MNR staff was away on a course and unavailable for comment.

Stamp, also named on the list of contacts, does not remember ever being contacted by the consultants until three weeks ago when he too was asked to review the study and the community's feelings towards it.

Although Stamp could not definitely rule out the fact that he might have been contacted by telephone sometime last year, he stressed he would only be able to supply information directly relating to Dysart et al.

Other contacts on the list could not be reached. Tony Pennick has sold his cottage business and no longer resides in the area. MPP John Eakins is out of the country at present, Wyn Bestwick is also on holidays and Kirk Whipper could not be contacted by telephone.

Highway 519 north of Haliburton is now provincial Highway 118, and Gerry Yack, of the MTC, was busy last Wednesday putting up new signs along the roadside.

Economic problems boost welfare

increased to $4,679.65 in March 1981.

Anson, Hindon and Minden is also recording the same steady pace as January 1982 figures of $4,300 are up from January, 1981 at $4,155 and January, 1980 at $3,635. In March 1980, welfare declined to $2,700 but rose again the next year to $4,400 in March.

Although complete figures for January weren't available yet in Lutterworth Township, Stephen Fox said they were expected to be similar to the January 1981 figures at $1,993. In January 1980, the township paid out $1,718 which increased to $1,984 by March of that year. In March 1981, welfare dropped to $592. Fox said the overall pay out on welfare was approximately $3,000 less in 1981 than in 1980.

Three townships have noticed declines in their welfare payments last month. In Stanhope township, where welfare administrator Jim Moore directly attributes the decrease to employment generated by a new wood mill located in the township, the roll showed payments of $2,151 for January 1982. In 1981 January payments were $2,415 and in 1980 they dropped to $1,600. In March of 1980, welfare payments were still low at $1,145 but took an astounding jump to $4,083 in March of 1981.

Similar to Stanhope, Snowdon has also noticed a decline. In January 1980 payments were $265.25 but rose to $1,203.77 by January of 1981. Rates were high throughout the winter as payments for March 1981 stood at $1,339.20. But this January is back to normal as rates have dropped back to $262.20.

Welfare payments are 80 per cent subsidized by the provincial government and in some cases are repayable by the recipient.

Sherborne, McClintock and Livingstone has also noted a decline in January 1982 welfare. This month only $100 was paid out while in 1981, $784 was requested and in 1980 $540 was allotted to welfare recipients. March 1980 registered a similar amount of $534 and in March, 1981, $1,355 was needed to cover welfare expenses.

Welfare payments are 80 per cent subsidized by the provincial government and in some cases are repayable by the recipient.

Local resort owners have little right to complain that they did not realize the importance of the study because it was advertised in advance, Smith said. He also claimed resort owners put little thought towards survey-type interviews and can easily forget them since many are conducted annually.

Smith added that the study is only to be used as an "indicator" and any entrepreneur would more than likely carry out his own study before proceeding with a development.

"I really think there was enough importance put on it...it's only a consulting document it's not the end all," Smith said.

they threw little light on was the "put and take" fishing becoming popular in United States, he said. This business, based on ambitious stocking programs, would be excellent for Lake Kashagawigamog, Smith said. With the growing concern of acid rain killing fish, "put and take" fishing is a natural alternative, according to Smith.

Boards might set holidays

Local board wants March break moved back one week

School boards may soon be able to set the dates for Christmas and March break holidays without conforming to province wide norms. And the Haliburton County board of education thinks it's an idea whose time has come.

A commission has been set up to gather opinions from parents, teachers and school boards across the province, and no decision on amending the holiday guidelines is expected until the committee has completed its hearings. But trustee Dorothy Kinsman, who represented the board at a commission meeting in Peterborough last month, said last Tuesday that flexibility in dates for holidays is likely in the near future.

Most members of the Haliburton County board agreed last Tuesday that they would like to see the March break holiday moved back to the first or second week of March, when opportunities for winter recreation would be greater than at the end of the month. The matter is complicated, however, by the fact that the board purchases education services for Victoria and Muskoka for some of its students. Unless those areas agreed to an earlier March break, it might be impossible for the Haliburton County board to move March break back.

The board also seemed open to changes in the Christmas holiday, extending it by one week or two, and shortening the summer break by an equivalent amount.

A committee of the board and school principals has met to discuss the possibilities, and more meetings are likely before any changes are formally advocated. In the meantime, parents with an opinion about the timing of holidays are invited to express them to their trustees.

Flautist to play in area schools

An Argentinian flautist will play seven concerts in area schools next month under an agreement between the Haliburton County Board of Education and the Guild of Fine Arts.

The flautist, Dario Domingues, will visit schools in Haliburton, Minden, Dorset, Gooderham, Wilberforce and Cardiff on March 17 and 18.

A grant of $300 from the board will meet half the cost of the series, while the Guild will pay the other half.

Domingues, who is also an expert on marionettes, will round out a four day visit to the area with a two day workshop at the Rails' End Gallery. Participants in the workshop will construct a marionette using basic household materials. Cost of the workshop has not yet been set.

A number of Domingues' marionettes will be on display at the Gallery during his visit.

Domingues will be the third international artist to visit the area in the past year and a half. Gilbert Bobo, an African weaver, and Phoon Poh Hoong, a Malaysian artist, have also exhibited their works at Rails' End Gallery and held workshops for local citizens.

Minden water system

while the remainder will establish a contingency fund for the system. Since council earlier decided to take five years to write off the deficit, only a portion of the profit will be used.

Residential water users will receive a 40 cent increase over the year to round the basic figure off at $85. Pergolas estimated the even number will save the municipality approximately $100 this year.

Commercial users in the township will get a reprieve as $141 is taken from the bills of Minden Rentall, Rockcliffe Hotel, the Dominion Hotel, and the Curling Club. Gambell Motors receives a discount of $112.40. The discounts, Pergolas said, realistically reflect the water usage of these establishments.

Recommendations for the water system were:

-Close the books on the 25th of each month except for salaries.

-Basic charge for water usage to be increased from $84.60 to $85 per year for easier accounting. All accounts to be raised to the next even dollar figure.

-Charges for on and off to be increased from $5 to $15 to cover costs.

-Salaries and expense charges to be reduced from 50 per cent to 40 per cent for the municipality. This recommendation reduces 10 per cent of the burden from the municipality and will be covered by the ministry of environment.

-Half-day employee previously charged at 50 per cent to the water system to be absorbed by the sewer system.

-Contingency reserve fund to be set up for emergencies such as broken mains and pump repairs or replacement.

Council accepted all of Pergolas' recommendations.

COMMENT

Quiet is worth the criticism

It is unfortunate that Anson, Hindon and Minden council is still wrangling about the validity and enforceability of its anti-noise by-law, and more unfortunate still that reeve Lloyd Walker would suggest the by-law should be placed in a bottom drawer and forgotten. Anti-noise by-laws are at least as important as by-laws that govern parking, business signs or any other matter that affects the quality of life in a community.

Minden's by-law has never been given a court test. A charge against the Rockcliffe Hotel has reached the courts, but at each appearance, a technicality or other problem has prevented a decisive conclusion to the case. But that should not deter council from continuing to enforce the by-law. It is modelled on a by-law drafted by the Ministry of the Environment, and that by-law, enforced in other communities, has stood up in court. There is no reason to doubt that Minden's by-law would also be upheld if it were given a proper test.

The latest wrinkle in the controversy is that the by-law appears, according to Rockcliffe Hotel owner Dave Willis, to contradict the licensing procedure of the Liquor Licensing Board of Ontario, which allows establishments to remain open until 1 a.m. Minden's by-law prohibits unwarranted noise between the hours of midnight and 9 a.m. Should council change the by-law to comply with the LLBO regulations? There is no reason to believe that it should. The LLBO gives establishments the legal right to sell alcoholic beverages. The noise by-law gives the municipality a legal right to control the cacophony that emanates from those establishments. The two issues are only tangentially related.

The question that council must consider is not whether the Rockcliffe deserves an exemption, but whether it is reasonable to expect peace and quiet by midnight. If council decides that it is reasonable, it should enforce the regulation fairly but forcefully, with no exemptions for hotels, carnivals, or rock concerts at the local arena.

It is, perhaps, a sad commentary on the state of modern life that laws are needed to control the incessant noise that rages around us, when a little courtesy and common sense would be far more effective. In their absence, however, an enforceable anti-noise by-law is needed. Anson, Hindon and Minden has one, and its council should stick behind it.

Buy now, save later

The Ontario government's request for an extension to CN's February 15 deadline for disposing of the Lindsay/Haliburton rail line is a positive sign that all may not yet be lost. For while it seems unlikely that the province would try to buy the rails, ties, ballast and all, keeping the right-of-way intact would make it just that much easier to re-open the rail corridor sometime in the future.

Much has been said about the shortsightedness of CN's move to abandon the line, and the federal government's complicity in the matter. No amount of raging can do any good now. The line is lost, at least for the immediate future. But if the province purchases it from the railway, a unified corridor from Haliburton to Lindsay will remain in place. If, on the other hand, the line is sold to the municipalities through which it passes, it may be put to various uses which could preclude its reopening in the future.

It is impossible to hope that trains as we know them will ever make the trip between Haliburton and Lindsay again. But it may not be too much to hope that in the not too distant future, some form of transportation as yet untested, even undreamed of, may find the old railway right-of-way a convenient route.

The province should buy the line if it can. Taxpayers would consider it an investment in the future.

Beauty contests should be for both

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

Susanne Cooper made a point last week about the nonsense of a beauty contest. It seems to me that perhaps we could continue with these contests if they were up-to-date. So this year we let the young men enter also - a queen and a king contest with equal number of boys and girls.

Since most points are given for beauty, which we know can be a fleeting attribute, and if these young people are going to receive prizes and crowns and ride in parades we should make sure that their beauty will last beyond their youth. We could ask each entry to bring along his or her parents and a number of points would be given for their appearance as an indication of the young person's lasting beauty.

Now I realize that a ski champion or a great musician, hockey player, scholar or artist does not have to show that their skill will continue through a lifetime but we aren't considering hard work, ability, dedication, or self-discipline, we are considering beauty which like pictures, fine china and statues should last a long time.

We need to bring our beauty contest into the modern age.

To the Editor:

Your October 7, 1981 issue carried the usual excellent column by Creighton Feir, "Feir Play", in which he made the suggestion that people should consider what could be done to line up special events or entertainment during our fall colour season. He admitted that it's very hard to realize very much money from Festicolor, but added that it could be chalked up as good promotion which would bring people into the area. This is true.

Honesty, fairness help solve problems

Editor's Notebook

by LEN PIZZEY

From time to time I get a telephone call from an irate reader, who thinks that some terrible injustice has been done, and that as a newspaper editor, I should be as wrangled as they are. And once in a while, I agree with them. But in the majority of cases, I find that the anger people direct at various government agencies, institutions and attitudes, is based on a shaky grasp of the facts and a narrow minded bias.

Monday morning, in the midst of the newspapers' second busiest day, I answered a call from a reader who said I wasn't very sympathetic to the cause of snowmobilers. They are, as a group, she said being shafted by a government that takes license fees and gasoline taxes but doesn't return them to clubs for trail grooming.

It's hard to be overly sympathetic to snowmobilers when you don't own a machine, and when you are frequently forced to listen to their nerve shattering roar at all hours of the night, but I agreed with her on one point. If the government is going to take license fees, it should return most of the money thus gathered to clubs that groom trails. But beyond that, I saw no reason and still see no reason why snowmobilers should not pay a user fee to ride on groomed trails.

Having disposed of the snowmobile question, the reader went on to criticize the Ministry of Natural Resources (a favourite target for many). She claimed they were over-staffed, and did nothing. I asked her if she had ever visited the local MNR office to see what they do, or talked to people who work for the ministry to find out about the problems they face. She hadn't. Next, she turned her attention to the local health unit. Septic waste was, she said, being pumped into a nearby field, instead of into a lagoon set up for the purpose, and she thought I should be deeply concerned. I asked her if she had brought the matter to the attention of the local health unit. Yes, she said, but they did nothing. Did you call them back and ask why nothing was done, I asked. No, she said, there's no point.

Well, I'm afraid that as a newspaper editor who has dealt with government employees and agencies many times in the course of my work, I cannot support the reader's position. There may, indeed, be problems with forests, with snowmobile trails and with septic waste. But merely raging about them will do no good. Anger and concern must be channeled toward the agency involved. If people are aware of problems that civil servants are supposed to handle, but are not handling, they should get on the phone and talk to the people involved. Dealing with people openly and honestly is a lot more useful than condemning them behind their backs, especially if your condemnation is based on a tenuous grasp of the facts.

My conversation with that reader convinced me not that governments and their employees are above criticism, but that like anyone else, government employees deserve to be told where they are failing in the eyes of the public. Only then can problems be solved and harmony restored.

Snowmobile riders from all parts of Haliburton County accompanied by riders from other centres will be converging on Minden and Haliburton this coming Saturday morning, February 6 to take part in Whipper Watson's Snowarama ride for Timmy which is being sponsored locally by the Rotary clubs of Minden and Haliburton. In the Minden area the riders will start from the Minden Community Centre while at Haliburton the riders will take off from the high school. The starting time at Minden will be 7:30 a.m. to 9:30 a.m. and in Haliburton it will be from 8:00 a.m. to 10:00 a.m. Lionel Walker, organizer for this year's local Snowarama outlined some changes at the joint meeting of the Haliburton and Minden Rotary Clubs held recently at Minden. He stated that two separate trails would be used this year, one for Minden riders and the other for the riders taking off from Haliburton. It seems that in other years near the end of the ride the last five miles got pretty rough after 200 machines had pounded over them. He hopes that the change will keep the trails in good shape right through the entire day. Proceeds will be used by the Easter Seal Society to help with the ongoing work for the rehabilitation of physically disabled children in Ontario. May we remind you that pledge sheets are still available from most stores in the area and this is an opportunity to enjoy a challenging ride on well groomed trails while at the same time assist in one of the most positive programs for those least able to assist themselves. Following the day's ride the Rotary Club of Minden will be sponsoring a dance at the arena auditorium in Minden at 9:00 p.m. Snowmobile enthusiasts wait all year long to participate in this big event and even if you don't ride, you can still go the distance for Timmy. Sponsor a rider, ride yourself. Fuel for the Haliburton riders is courtesy of Imperial Oil Limited through their local agent Giles Connelly of Haliburton and for the Minden riders by Gulf Oil and their agent John Francis Fuels of Minden. Riders, start your engines, we're just about ready to take off on the Million Dollar Ride.

We hate to admit this, but a recent Gallup Poll states that the majority today believe that morals, honesty and peace of mind are deteriorating and only slightly less than a majority believe that happiness is also slipping. If this is the case then it's time that we all took a good look at ourselves and start to clean up our act. This certainly leaves us with something to think about.

We have just received a report from the Municipality of Dysart et al that a recent sample taken of the drinking water from Dover's Spring was sent away and we are pleased to state that the water is satisfactory for drinking and in other words near perfect. The sample was taken by Dale McCrea. This good report is music to the ears of all those who use this water for drinking.

Just recently the Rotary Clubs of Haliburton and Minden met in a joint meeting at the Minden community centre to hear Whipper Billy Watson deliver a stirring message to prepare all those present for Snowarama which is being held this coming Saturday, February 6 at Minden and Haliburton. It's certainly encouraging to see the two villages pulling together in a common cause to raise money for the rehabilitation of physically disabled children in Ontario.

This coming Sunday afternoon, February 7 at 2:30 p.m. Bracebridge will be in Haliburton to take on the Haliburton Huskies in a regular scheduled Georgian Bay Junior COHA contest at the arena in Haliburton.

We heard this week that Halimar Resort which has been owned and operated by Bruce and Marion Henry at Haliburton for the past 30 years has been sold. The Henry's, who always ran a first class operation, are building a new home near the Resort which they hope to move into in the very near future.

During the time that the snowmobiles will be travelling along the trails during Snowarama this coming Sunday the annual Highland Mixed Curling Bonspiel will be in progress at the Haliburton Curling Club. This annual affair attracts rinks from all parts of Ontario.

Still on the subject of curling, Joe Iles has been busy the past couple of weeks arranging teams from the Rotary Club of Haliburton to go to take part in the annual Fenelon Falls Rotary Bonspiel. Four teams from the local clubs are expected to participate in the bonspiel which is taking place today (Wednesday) at the Fenelon Falls Curling Club.

The Haliburton Highlands Cross Country Ski Club would like to remind all those interested that the ski lessons which were cancelled January 10 because of the cold are rescheduled for this Saturday, February 6 at 10:00 a.m. at the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School.

We certainly appreciate all those who have contributed photos to be used in our Pic of the Past each week. Keep sending them in and after we use them we will see that you get them back. May we remind you to give us as much information as possible when submitting these pictures. At various times we hesitate to use certain photos if we do not have enough information.

In closing this week I would like to leave you with these humorous words of wisdom. They say middle age is the time of life when your legs buckle and your belt doesn't. And how about this one. Before credit cards, we always knew exactly how much we were broke.

VIEWPOINT

Pic of the Past

This week we would like to thank Stewart (Spike) Welch of Kinmount, Ontario for taking the time to send us this most interesting photo of the main street in Kinmount taken in April of 1928. Some of the flood pictures we have seen on TV of certain parts of United States were nothing compared to the flood in Kinmount in April of that year. You can see just how high the water was up on the store fronts and the man in the canoe had no trouble paddling his way down the main street. It was the only way to go.

Bill Smiley

Don't you get a little tired of the touchiness of modern society in which, no matter where you step, it's on somebody's toes, no matter what you say or write, it's a slur on someone's background, color, creed or convictions?

About the only areas left in which one may chance a remark without fear of inflicting a wound are politics and sex.

It's extremely difficult to inflict even a bruise on a politician. He must have a fat ego in the first place, and he quickly acquires a brass hide to go with it. Add an ability to talk out of both sides of the mouth at once, and a certain skill in straddling fences, and you have cabinet material.

In the field of sex, there don't seem to be any limits any more to what can be said, presented or simulated. Movies, magazines and theatres, club us over the head with raw, unembellished sex, or seek to titillate the spook in each of us with highly embellished, freaky sex until the whole once-exciting subject has become a crashing bore.

Aside from sex and politics then, there is scarcely an aspect of the human scene where even angels fear to tread, lest they step on someone's sensibilities.

Ethnic jokes are out, black is beautiful, gefillte fish is glorious, Rhodesia is rotten, poor people are more noble than rich people, gay is gorgeous, and the only real sin is to be old.

Lord forbid that we should ever go back to the days when a Catholic was a "mick" or a "dogan", a black person was a "nigger", an Italian was a "whop", a Chinese was a "chink", and so on.

But I do get heartily sick of a society in which you have to tip-toe all the time for fear of offending some touchy minority, or trespassing inadvertently on someone's weird religious affiliations.

We are developing into a society with a snobbish sort of reverse prejudice in which everybody is leaning over backwards in order to appear not even to be breathing on anyone else.

As a result, we are losing much of that good old Canadian crustiness and turning into a nation of nice nannies in whose mouth margarine wouldn't melt.

Even our media reflect this trend in our society. With few exceptions, our newspapers are as bland as blanc mange. The letters to the editor have more bite, and are often better written, than the editorials.

Our magazines are either tiresomely "liberal" or narrowly nationalistic, or both. Tied in tight bundles, they make better firewood than they do reading matter.

Television and radio news reporting, most of it culled from the late editions of newspapers, is incredibly unimaginative and repetitious. TV programs, on the whole, are pure pap, offensive by being so inoffensive.

Public figures are so frightened of offending somebody or losing a few votes, that their public utterances come out as mush wrapped in marshmallow.

What this country, and this society, need is a good dash of cold water from somewhere, to wake us from our mind-numbing, paralyzing "niceness."

We need a Bob Edwards or a Grattan O'Leary to jolt us with some honest vituperation, some colorful name-calling, some hard facts, and some common sense.

We need some politicians with guts, who don't give a damn for the popularity polls, and who would give us the facts of life without any sugar coating.

We need some educators with backbone to tell the people who claim that Huckleberry Finn is racist and The Merchant of Venice is anti-semitic and Catch-22 is dirty and The Diviners is disgusting, to go fly a kite.

We need about 10,000 fewer smart-ass commentations on what is wrong with this country, and a few hundred honest men or women to tell us what is right with it.

We need far fewer "reasonable" people and a heck of a lot more "unreasonable" people, who would refuse to accept something just because it's always been done that way, or someone might be upset if things were changed.

We need some thundering editorials, some pulpits pounded, some stiff jail sentences for racism, some honesty in high places.

We certainly don't need a "good war" or a "good depression" to make Canadians stop whining and bitching and mealy-mouthed, but we certainly need a "good" something to turn us back into the sturdy, individualistic people we used to be.

I haven't the answers. I'm no prophet. But I'm sick to the ears of a society that thinks: old people are a nuisance; young people are never a nuisance; supermarkets are sexy; social workers can make miracles; and everybody is as good as everybody else.

Perhaps if you agree with me to some extent, you would enjoy reading The Golden Age of B.S. by Fred C. Dobbs. It's rambling and it's coarse in spots, but it's right

Chamber flying high on balloon idea

From the Chamber

by Bob Stinson

Last Tuesday, January 26 the Chamber invited all of the members out to the Haliburton Legion to see the new Skyliner Balloon launched and to hear of a joint promotional effort that had been suggested and could take place if sufficient funds could be raised for it.

Certainly within the writer's seven years with the Chamber this meeting was one of the high points. Just over 70 members attended and during the entire evening not one negative comment emerged. During the hard economic times our country is going through, I doubt if there are too many occasions lately where business men are getting together and that happens. This is not to say that none of those in attendance are experiencing business difficulties -- far from it. Many of those pledging support to this project certainly did so under some duress, but they believed in the program, believed it would be good for the community and they backed it with their hard earned dollars.

It has long been a concern with the Chamber that we cannot show retailers and service industry members the same direct results from our potential activities as we can for the Resort industry. The Resorts can always pinpoint a certain number of their clients as having been acquired through their membership or advertising with the Chamber where other sectors do not as a rule have people walking through their door indicating that the Chamber sent them. They all do benefit however, and the business people represented at this function on Tuesday fortunately saw that they do. Pledges from the retail and service sector were quite substantial and this was one of the most encouraging factors displayed and it contributed greatly to the obvious success of the evening.

At least one member suggested some time ago that instead of the Chamber selling advertising to raise money towards promotional endeavours why not just ask each member to contribute towards a worthwhile program which would not have to be cluttered up with a lot of individual ads. We have never been convinced that the membership would be willing to support anything that didn't have their name on it. Looks like we were wrong. Any member who pledges financial support for this campaign may have their brochures distributed at the 16 malls that will be visited, but most of those who immediately backed the program do not have any brochures to distribute. They have then, done just what we felt they may not do, contribute to a very worthwhile promotion that they know will

"the wonderful fall scenery." The question seems to be "How?" Feir concluded by asking for suggestions.

The season of 1981 was wonderfully, indescribably colourful, even for our regularly beautiful area. I think that those who are interested have probably taken excellent colour transparencies this last season, and are probably taking more in this lovely winter season of a different kind of beauty.

What about a contest for pictures of the Haliburton area? The Curator of Rails' End Gallery could head a judging committee. There could be a very good exhibition of the various categories of entries at Rails' End Gallery, with local promotion and radio spots arranged by a publicity committee, along with another publicity they could dream up.

It is surprising what individuals can do to stimulate interest in this area. Since I first came, saw and was conquered, I have been a one-woman promoter to the extent that my sister and husband purchased land and built a cottage nearby, followed by my sisters' brother-in-law and wife, followed by my nephew's father-in-law. Then two children of my sister's brother-in-law each purchased land and cottages. I expect my son and family to build and live here very shortly. This is given as an example of what one enthusiastic person can do to rouse interest and to promote. This stone and ripple effect produces tax money and consumer purchases in the area.

bring people into the community. Once they are here their presence will generate business either directly or indirectly for everyone.

Pledges at the meeting reached over $4,200 and by the weekend another $1,000 had been added by other members who were not in attendance. Some of the municipalities are expected to add to that again once they have discussed it at a meeting and the $8,000 goal is certainly within reach. After over 30 years operating Halimar Resort on Lake Kashagawigamog, Bruce and Marion Henry are retiring. Bruce officially announced this at the above described meeting last Tuesday in Haliburton. He stated that Halimar had been sold to Guy and Wendy Ramsay who have been customers at the Resort for some 25 years and that he and Marion are currently building their retirement home on property adjacent to Halimar.

Bruce is a founding member of both the Chamber and the Lake Kashagawigamog Tourist Association and as well as devoting many years of dedication to those organizations also served on the board and is a past-president of Resorts Ontario. Marion has earned a reputation as one of

Tourism study won't be shelved...yet

Serendipity

by SUE COOPER

Does anybody really know why the Peterborough/Haliburton zone study was undertaken?

Presumably, the results of this study, costing $125,000, would be utilized by Ministry of Industry and Tourism staff members to direct tourism developers to certain areas of the province. But when Ministry representatives and consultants are confronted with angry councillors who feel their area was neglected, we learn that developers won't necessarily believe what's in the document but will carry out their own studies before investing.

Now, there's the Chamber of Commerce, which along with many other groups suggested this area be considered for a tourism study. But manager Bob Stinson is stating publicly that we in Haliburton County have a right to complain. Maybe the consultants spent all the money thoroughly investigating other areas and the funds were almost depleted by the time they arrived in Haliburton.

Local residents, business people, contacted during the study are unsure of why it was carried out although they're all sure that it only glanced at the Minden area. They're not only unaware of why the study was commenced. However, some are even unsure if they were contacted, although the consultants have them listed in their diaries.

Central Ontario Tourist Association (COTA) president Bill Smith, who acted as a steering committee member for the study, says he's unsure why the survey didn't cover the recreational possibilities in more depth, but he suggests the consultants were "narrow-minded".

Anson, Hindon and Minden council, which has condemned the study, does not know as yet if the Ministry of Industry and Tourism will void the study because it is unfair to the Minden area.

And consulting firm Laventhol and Horwath might have reason to wonder if it will win another government contract after the poor reception this document has received in the area.

The only thing we can be sure about is the Peterborough/Haliburton zone study won't find its way to a dusty government shelf for sometime yet.

Turn-out disappoints backers Spectators and competitors below anticipated number

George Garnett of Lakefield threw caution to the wind when he competed in the sno cross event on Head Lake Sunday.

What was to have been an action-packed week-end of snowmobile racing turned into a disappointment for organizers when only 17 riders turned up to participate in a cross country race.

The event, sanctioned by the Ontario Snowmobile Racing Federation was expected to attract riders from across Ontario, but for reasons that are not yet clear, very few of the more than 100 people who expressed an interest in travelling to Haliburton for the competition actually made the trip.

The turnout was a setback to race organizer Pat Kennedy, who, along with a number of helpers, spent weeks ironing out details of the event, setting up a 15 mile cross country course and building a snow cross track on Head Lake.

But despite the poor turnout, Kennedy thinks there is good potential in the event, and he intends to try again.

The cross country event is a demanding one for both riders and machines, and has not caught on with the racing fraternity to the extent that oval racing has. But Kennedy thinks that with persistence, the Haliburton race, for the Echo Cup, will begin to pay dividends in a year or two.

A sno cross event was also planned for the week-end, and it too, drew fewer participants than expected. It is a new event on the circuit (the Haliburton event was only the second in Ontario this year) and Kennedy believes that its popularity will grow once riders become familiar with it.

"I think it's definitely going to be the coming thing," Kennedy said, adding that "we're still in the grass roots of it".

Those who did make the trip to Haliburton over the week-end were reportedly pleased with the course for both events.

"All the drivers said they enjoyed it," Kennedy said. "They had a good time."

Saturday's cross country race proved a tough one for the racers, as several of those who started were unable to complete the 100 mile distance.

Ken Avann of Keswick, Ontario rode his Polaris to first place in the event, taking class three honours as well as the Echo cup trophy and more than $250 in cash.

Second place in the class went to Steve Brand of Dundas, Ontario on a Ski doo. Dave McEwen of London, Ontario was third on a Moto Ski. Fourth was Ken Avann of Agincourt on a Yamaha, with fifth place going to Jim Davies of London on a Moto Ski.

David Petrini of Haliburton won the Class 2 division riding a Ski doo, with second place going to Wayne Parnell of Gooderham on a John Deere.

Class 1 was taken by Paul Ratcliffe of Delaware, Ontario, on a Moto Ski. Second was Mike Cook of Keswick on an Arctic Cat. Peter Hattin of Bancroft was third on a Ski doo.

Sunday's sno cross event was popular with the riders who turned out to compete. The combination of turns, jumps and straight-of-ways challenged skills but proved relatively easy on machines, a factor that Kennedy thinks will help its chances of catching on with racing enthusiasts.

In Class 1 competition, Mike Freeman of Port Perry finished first on a Yamaha, followed by Wayne Harnden of Grafton on a Ski doo, Steve Stewart of Minden on a Polaris, and Michael Maynard of Markham on a Yamaha.

Freeman also took Class 11 honours, followed by Harnden, George Garnett of Lakefield on a Yamaha, Doug Verwolf of London on a Motoski, and Wayne Wells of Haliburton on a Ski doo.

Freeman and Harnden repeated their one two finish in Wayne Harnden of Grafton finished second in all three classes of the sno cross event held in Haliburton on Sunday.

The tight corners on the sno cross course called for skillful driving, but there was plenty of opportunity to pass if you had the nerve.

Trophy winners in the sno cross event in Haliburton on Sunday were Mike Freeman of Port Perry, Wayne Harnden of Grafton, Steve Stewart of Minden, Michael Maynard of Markham, George Garnett of Lakefield, Doug Verwolf of London, Wayne Wells of Haliburton, Jim Davies of London and Ken Avann of Keswick.

Haliburton County Echo general manager Creighton Feir presented the Echo cup to cross country snowmobile race winner Ken Avann of Keswick,

The men's and women's Regional "D" squash tournament opened at the Highlands Squash Club last Friday when competitors from the Belleville, Peterborough, Barrie, Trinity College, and Haliburton Clubs met for some exciting and entertaining squash.

The men's championship was won by Gary Helmky of Barrie over Hugh Kendall of Trinity College.

The women's champion was Jan Marcotte of Belleville who defeated Lynn Peppier of Belleville.

Sheila Elston of Haliburton won the women's consolation round over Chris Lynd after five gruelling games.

Following Saturday's matches, the Haliburton club hosted a dinner/dance with a sneak preview of Cabaret Night adding to the fun.

At the conclusion of the tournament on Sunday, January 31, the winners were presented with keeper trophies, donated by Labatt Breweries.

Atoms win over Millbrook to take round robin game

The Haliburton Atoms travelled to Millbrook on Monday night and came away with a 3-1 win in the first game of a round robin series.

The local team is playing a home and home series with Millbrook and Beaverton and the team with the highest point total will advance against the winner of the Southern Division.

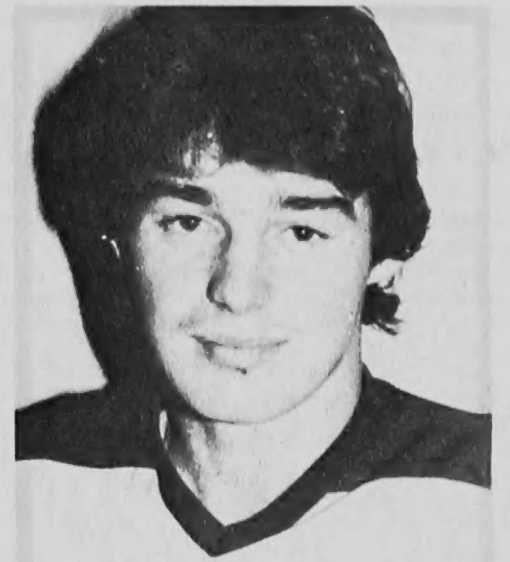

The Haliburton boys hit the ice with only eight skaters and a goaltender when centreman Philip Johnston was unable to play because of a headache, however the boys came up with a big checking effort and along with some outstanding goaltending from Gavin McKnight were able to defeat the Millbrook team.

After a scoreless first period Haliburton hit the score-sheet when Jeff Francis banged home a rebound on a shot by John Vuksic. Kelly Youngdale also drew an assist on the play. Haliburton then picked up a five minute major penalty and the Millbrook team applied tremendous pressure but were unable to score on goaltender Gavin McKnight.

Early in the third period the locals picked up two quick goals, one by John Vuksic assisted by Kelly Youngdale and the other by Jeff Francis

Huskies play in Minden

Locals defeat Huntsville, lose to Gravenhurst

The Haliburton Huskies had trouble on the road Friday, but bounced back with the support of local fans on Sunday.

In Gravenhurst for a Friday evening game, the Huskies fell behind in the early going and were unable to catch up, despite netting a respectable five goals.

Gravenhurst opened the scoring at 5:16 of the first period and moved in front by two at 8:49.

Dave Nicholls found the mark at 9:12 to get the Huskies in the game, assisted by Hodgson and Yake, but the Indians regained the two goal lead less than two minutes later.

At the 13:41 mark, Ron Yake, the Huskies leading scorer, added another point to his growing total with help from Nicholls. But less than a minute later Gravenhurst took advantage of a penalty to the Huskies and once again moved in front by two goals.

Action cooled around the nets in the second period, and it took the Huskies until 10:29 to get another, as Gary Harrison scored unassisted on a power play.

Gravenhurst stayed in front however, and at 16:42, they netted another to take a 5-3 lead into the third period.

The Huskies again moved within a single goal in the third period, as Harrison got his second of the game, assisted by Corey Walker and Shaun Chapman. The goal came at 8:23.

Gravenhurst could not be contained for long however, and they took the game away from the Huskies with goals at 9:20 and 18:08.

Nicholls' second goal of the game, with 52 seconds left, came too late to be of much help to the local team, and with just 20 seconds left on the clock, Gravenhurst scored one more to clinch an 8-5 win.

Sunday's game was threatened by bad weather, but despite the stormy conditions, the Huntsville Huskies made the journey to Minden, where the Haliburton squad gave fans in that community plenty to cheer about.

Kevin Shapiera opened the scoring for Haliburton, assisted by Walker and at 15:11, shorthanded, Dave Nicholls scored unassisted to give the home team a 2-0 lead.

Huntsville could manage only one in the period, at 15:55, but early in the second they tied the score while the Huskies had a man advantage.

Tim Davies' goal at 1:57 of the second regained the lead, but it was lost again at 4:33, when Huntsville netted their third of the game.

Davies was assisted by Yake and Nicholls.

At the 5:05 mark, Nicholls got his second of the game to move Haliburton back out in front. Scott Arbuthnot and Yake helped out on the goal.

Gravenhurst came back to tie the score again at the 12:44 mark, and play remained even until the final seconds, when Ron Yake found the mark on a three way play from Nicholls and Duff Mitchell.

The opening minutes of the third period were a see saw affair, as Huntsville pressed to tie the score and Haliburton dug in to stay in front.

The pressure finally paid off for Huntsville at 11:17 of the third, when they tied the score at five.

But the local Huskies, fired up by fan support, regained the lead at 14:18 on a goal by Davies, assisted by Yake and Ed Davis, and added an insurance marker at 14:46 shorthanded.

Scott Arbuthnot got the extra marker, unassisted.

The Huskies now have eight games left to play in the regular season.

Friday, they'll travel to Midland, and Sunday, they'll be at home for a game against Bracebridge. Starting time is 2:30 p.m. at the Dysart arena.

Anglers should learn regulation changes

Anglers should be aware of changes included in the Summary of Ontario Fishing Regulations for 1982.

The regulations are now available in Ministry of Natural Resources district offices and can be obtained in most sporting goods stores early in the new year.

The following are the major changes:

- The daily creel limit on yellow pickerel in the Bay of Quinte and other Division 8 waters has been reduced to four (from six in 1981).
- A new sanctuary has been established in the City of Trenton and all ice fishing huts on the Trent River, south of Lock 9, must be registered at the local MNR office.

- Fish huts must be removed by March 15 from all waters of Division 8 (Bays of Quinte and surrounding water of Lake Ontario), Division 10 (northern parts of Lanark, Leeds, and Grenville Counties) and Division 11 (part of the St. Lawrence River).

- These winter regulations are also in effect in numerous other waters listed in the 1982 Summary.
- To protect stocks of lake trout back-crosses planted in Georgian Bay, the season for these hybrids and for the lake trout species itself has been closed from October 1 to November 30 each year - the fall spawning period.

- Lake Scugog is now included with the Kawartha Lakes in Division 6. This lake is the sole exception to the general rule in Division 6 in which all fishing is prohibited from November 16 until the trout season opens the following spring.

- All-year yellow pickerel fishing in Georgian Bay has been discontinued. There is a six-week closure on this species in Georgian Bay from March 16 until April 30.

Many sanctuaries have been newly established throughout the province. More detailed information may be obtained from the district office in the area concerned.

Lake Simcoe's summer and fall lake trout season in 1982 will close on October 5.

High scores for singles, triples

High bowlers for the day were: Gord Bennet, 296 single, 671 triple; Freida Handy, 210, 213, 202 single, 605 triple.

Other games over 200 were: Jim Grant, 231; Ev Stata, 224; Ev Perrin, 221; Mary Lou Bird, 208; Garnet Fagan, 204; and Phyllis MacDuff, 201.

Atoms win with 5 players missing

Woodville Atoms played at Haliburton Saturday in a game that was a well played contest between two evenly matched teams. Haliburton, with five of their players missing from the lineup, received an excellent effort from the squad that was able to make the game.

Neither team was able to score in the first period. The second was also scoreless until with only 24 seconds remaining, Jason Morissette received a pass from Brian Waller who got the puck from

Craig Bain after he dug it out of the corner in Woodville's zone. Morissette skated around a defence man and lifted a high backhand past the Woodville goalie to give Haliburton a one goal lead.

Woodville came out skating hard in the third period and only excellent goal tending from Callum Wood kept them off the scoreboard. The game ended after an exciting period with Haliburton winning 1-0.

Haliburton's final game of the regular season is Saturday, February 6 at home against Fenelon Falls #1. Game time is 12:00 noon.

On Saturday, February 13 the team travels to Fenelon Falls for a one day tournament. Their first game is at 11:00 a.m. against Norwood.

Put imagination in feeding

Attracting Winter Birds

Most of our birds are fair-weather friends, who flee to more southern climates at the first hint of frost. But a few dozen stick with us through the deepest winter snows, or regard Ontario as a southerly escape from their arctic breeding grounds. For these chosen few, the hobby of bird-feeding has been a boon.

If you are one of the 20-25 per cent of us who regularly feed birds, you know that a flock of hungry birds can go through an incredible amount of seed. In fact, an average feeder consumes 60 pounds of feed in a winter. Many excellent commercial seed mixes are available as a basis for a feeding program, but it is fun to try a few special treats as well.

One of the favourite specialties for chickadees, woodpeckers, and nuthatches is suet. Earlier booklets on birdfeeding suggested that the naturalist should simply hang the skinned carcass of some small animal in the yard, and let the birds hammer away at the frozen fat. However, for those who might feel offended (or sickened) at the sight of a hanging carcass gradually rotting in a sudden thaw, suet presents a considerably better alternative. Fats are especially useful to winter birds, because they provide a concentrated source of energy. Since small birds have body temperatures in the range of 108-110 degrees F, that energy is put to good use.

Peanut butter is another good energy source, but a few words of caution are in order. Don't feed peanut butter without mixing it with crumbs or dry seeds to prevent clogging the throats of small birds. And never feed suet or peanut butter from metal or wire containers, since the freezing metal in cold weather can injure any exposed flesh on visiting birds.

Don't hesitate to try something different. Doughnuts are a favourite of many birds, because of their fat content. Stale cake is preferred over white bread (more nutritious) and pumpkin pie is apparently a great treat for some birds. Dried apples attract blue jays and evening grosbeaks, and left-over Christmas nuts of all varieties will be put to good use by woodpeckers and many other birds. With a little imagination, you can make bird-feeding a hobby that is more interesting for both you and your birds.

Provincial camping fees will increase next year

Provincial park fees will increase next year.

Ontario Natural Resources Minister Alan Pope says the increase, effective April 1, is necessary to help offset higher operating costs.

A campsite with electricity costing $7.50 in 1981 will cost $8.00 under the new fee structure, while a regular campsite increases from $6 to $6.50.

A week-day package at reduced rates as well as off-season discount fees will continue to be offered in some parks in 1982.

Ontario senior citizens will pay full camping fees for week-end use from the third Friday in June to Labour Day, but they may continue to camp free during the week and at any time during the rest of the year. They will also continue to have free day-use privileges at any time.

Carnival a success Weather helps Minden put on winter fun

For the first time in recent years the weather cooperated with the organizers of the Minden Kinsmen winter carnival, and as a result, attendance was up throughout the week-end.

The carnival got underway Friday night with dances, a presentation by the Minden figure skating club, and the highlight of the evening, the crowning of the carnival queen.

Christa Irwin was chosen as junior queen, with Wendy Buchanan as her princess. In the senior competition, Barb Adams gained the title of carnival queen, and the princess's crown awarded to Shelley Bull.

Other activities Friday evening included the opening games in the carnival bonspiel and an all-star hockey game at the arena.

Saturday's action began with the first games of the Novice hockey tournament. The team from Bracebridge emerged the overall winners at the end of the day, while the Oakwood squad were awarded the consolation trophy.

The curling bonspiel also got underway again Saturday morning, and sportscar races on ice, which began at 10 a.m., were a day long attraction.

The carnival parade was some 45 minutes late getting underway, but the crowds lining the main street didn't seem to mind. Music from three marching bands enlivened the proceedings, and a number of floats were also exhibited as the parade wound its way toward the arena grounds.

The award for the best commercial entry in the parade went to Hope Satellite. C.M. Construction took second prize, with third spot going to the entry from Easton's Red and White, Minden division.

Among non commercial entries, the Minden Fitness Club had the top entry. Second prize went to the Minden Scouts, while Hyland Crest drove away with third prize.

Saturday also included snowmobile drag races, wrist wrestling contests, and a number of other outdoor events.

In the pole climbing event, the team of John McKelvey, Les Burk and Jim McKelvey set a new record with the incredible time of two seconds. Second place went to the team of Steve Crowe, Larry Anderson and Dennis Stribling, who managed to sound the bell in a more conventional 13 seconds.

Five teams entered the cross cut saw contest, and two tied for top honours. Burt Short and Mitchell Stephen got through the wood in just 25 seconds, as did another pair whose names were not available.

In the tricycle races, every youngster who entered emerged a winner, taking home a touque, a balloon and a carnival button for their efforts.

The tug-of-war was won by the team of Alf Kimble, Harry Forbes, Les Burk, Jim McKelvey, John McKelvey and Kevin Hamilton.

Results of the arm wrestling and the snowmobile races were not available.

Saturday's activities wound up with a dance at Archie Stouffer school for the younger set and an oldtimers hockey game between Haliburton and Huntsville, which Haliburton won.

Sunday's events included a pancake breakfast, more car races, a businessmen's challenge cup snowmobile race, and a chicken eating contest sponsored by Dixie Lee, which was won by Randy Sawyer.

Happy Gang News

By Watson Anderson

It is still cold at 28 deg. below zero Celsius on Monday morning and during our walk we got an idea about the Haliburton tartan that got an honourable write up in a recent 'Echo'. Not near enough people are wearing the tartan and now that Stedmans are the official merchandizers it is possible that will change. The writer for instance would like an ordinary bow tie, also a regular tie and no material makes nicer ties than natural wool. It may be possible to interest the Happy ladies to start their manufacture, but first they must get patterns.

Monday afternoon the Happy Gang were transported to Lakeview school to mingle with the members of The ARC Industries as a social gesture. They showed us a very good time.

In the evening Luke Schell, a home spun balladeer with a guitar, gave us a scheduled recital of current country ballads. It was very nice, an indication to us that Luke has the talent to successful advancement.

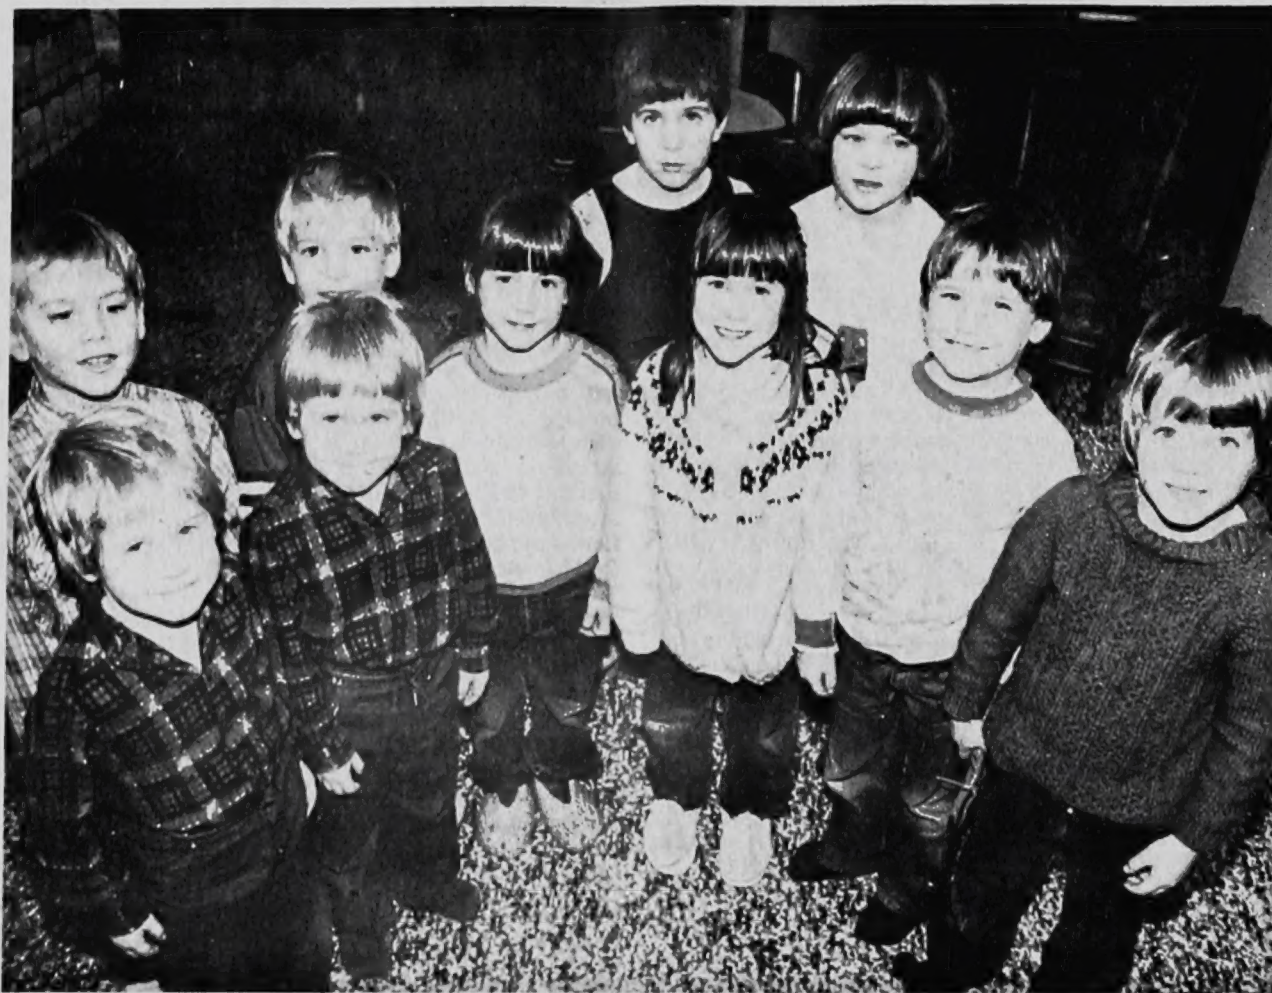

June Devolin led us in bible study Tuesday morning taking as the topic for study how thankful we must be for the enormous bounty we daily receive from our maker as covered throughout the Psalms. We take our lives for granted as being simple and enjoyable but a life is very far from simple. Canada especially in the immediate past has enjoyed an affluence unequalled anywhere, an affluence won not by strenuous activity but by the activity of the politicians, the bankers, the professions (farming included) the trades and so on by the grace of God. For all our good circumstances we must in all things give thanks to Him.

Bingo was played in the afternoon, Betty Wise and Helen Archer the volunteer helpers and Ray Smith calling. It would seem we had more than usual prizes which added extra flavour to the game.

A walk into town was very pleasant despite the frost and extra chill factor. Dysart et al was busy on Pine Street removing snow and already the walking surface is perfect all the way. Soon we will be up to ground hog day. It should be made a statutory holiday as being the first day of spring.

Another outing to Locarno on the Lake came up Wednesday noon for another dinner when accomodating owner/driver Doug Sealey transported Flossie Burk and Hazel Parish; Catherine and Bob Wilkinson - Norman Titus and Harold Austin; Gwen and Les Hughes - Alice Hartle and Jack Pollard; Pat and Harry Woolley - John Sissons and Watson Anderson and Ivy Shaw took Ron Pearson. Elsie Porter, Beryl Morrow and Shirley Frost. The facetious Jack Bassett, chairman of Wheels to Meals for all seniors of Haliburton County, bade us welcome with a story of wit. It was baked ham, green beans, niblets of corn, followed by dessert of apple pie with ice cream and plenty of delicious tea or coffee. We have an invitation to return February 10. Lake Kashagawigamog was still misty, the day somber after a record overnight frost of -36 degrees C. Conversation did not touch on the touchy subjects like politics, inflation, the clamor for higher wages for work and lower wages for money put to work, all of which were too mundane for good cheer, but

The arrival of twins can be considered uncommon, but the arrival of five sets in one kindergarten class is indeed unusual. While four sets of twins attend Victoria Street School in Haliburton village on the same days, one set attends the other class. However, Tuesday the odd-day twins got mixed up and attended

Senior League

Well, it is Monday morning January 25, and it is 20 below zero here at Hyland Crest. We are surely having real weather, but we are nice and warm here.

Sunday night service in the chapel with Rev. Burgess taking the service, and Mr. Harold Thompson reading the lesson from the twenty-third chapter of Luke and offering prayer was a very nice service. Mrs. Thompson played and sang, which really helps.

Monday morning was fun and fitness, with two interesting movies on Monday night.

Rev. Trevor Denny, from

Haliburton Anglican Church held service in the chapel, here on Tuesday morning. He read from the tenth chapter of Mark, 14th verse. Suffer little children to come onto me. Our girls came to play and sing. Rev. Denny is leaving us. May God's blessing go with him and his family in their new charge.

Tuesday night was music night here. Fred Ballard came to play for us, giving us all his best. We thank you, Fred, for coming to entertain us for a little while. You always do it cheerfully, with the cutest little smile.

The ladies in the Craft room on Wednesday afternoon - stitching, sewing, knitting and humming little tunes. Especially Millie Wood, whose hands are seldom still, always knitting mitts, or socks, for Mark or Wayne or Bill.

Wednesday night is games night in the auditorium, where we spend a social time and have a lot of fun.

Thursday morning once again it's fun and fitness, where we have a lot of ladies, but not too many men. The A.C.W. ladies from West Guilford put on the tea party in the afternoon. They gave us a lovely lunch, and gave us a birthday cake for those who had birthdays in December and January. This was an afternoon we should all remember. In the evening our Kinsmen showed up for a good hour of Bingo.

Friday is sing-song time here at Hyland Crest. Mrs. Baron came to play and Mrs. Coburn singing for us. For this we are surely blessed. It was hair-do time - our stylist couldn't wash our ladies hair.

ARC has to pay more for Lakeview Centre

The Haliburton and District Association for the Mentally Retarded will have to pay more for the use of the Lakeview Centre in Haliburton Village.

That word came last week from Sir Sandford Fleming College, which leases the Lakeview Centre from the Haliburton County Board of Education. In a letter to the board, the coordinator of the Sir Sandford's Haliburton operation, Barbara Bolin, said rising costs and budget cutbacks have forced the college to seek and increase in the $100 a month rent the mentally retarded association pays for the facilities used by ARC Industries.

Negotiations between Sir Sandford and the retarded association on a new fee are expected to begin in the next few weeks.

The board had no objection to Sir Sandford's decision, but to protect the public's interest, it decided to appoint Monmouth trustee Ross Anderson to represent the board at the negotiating sessions. Anderson served on the committee which helped negotiate the original long term lease between the board and the Peterborough based college.

Voluntary sector is important in county

by Susan Clements

The involvement of the voluntary sector in social planning for a community is of paramount importance. Haliburton County Social Planning Council is actively searching for new members. Membership is open to all residents of Haliburton County, service providers, representatives of community organizations, elected officials or anyone with an interest in social planning. No membership fee is required.

The objectives of H.C.S.P.C. are:

- to promote an effective, well-balanced programme of health, welfare, education and recreation services for the county
- to identify gaps in service
- to set a mechanism in place to fill unmet needs
- to provide a channel for co-ordination and cooperation among organizations.

- to develop public awareness of social needs
- to promote development of capable volunteer and professional leadership in the community and social service field

In an effort to accomplish the stated objectives, the council has sponsored numerous meetings, distributed questionnaires, and produced reports and community resource directories. The following is an overview of our recent work.

HCSPC was responsible for starting Haliburton County Home Support Services. The latter organization was created two years ago to assist the elderly and handicapped to remain independent in their own home for as long as possible. In addition, home support sought to create an awareness in the community of the process of

Barriers overcome by music

by: Catharine Miller
Infant Development
Consultant

Music is often referred to as the universal language, since through music all age, socioeconomic and cultural barriers can be overcome, allowing each and everyone of us to communicate with each other. In each of our daily lives, music plays an integral part - whether we whistle while we work, hum along with a radio or television commercial jingle, dancercise, or sing a lullabye. Researchers have demonstrated that music has the power to affect our moods and our behaviour. In this column, we consider ways to introduce music in the early years.

R.B. Smith (author of Music in the Child's Education) says "all young children have musical capacities, and all should have the opportunity to develop this potential". Through music activities children can develop listening and imitation skills, improve language skills, exercise large muscles with demonstrating the actions in a song, or use small muscles in finger plays or to play an instrument. Perhaps most importantly, though, through music children can have fun and achieve success.

Music activities in the early years should invite the child's participation. The emphasis should be on the pleasure of the experience rather than the right or wrong way of responding. Any response is a good one! Although first responses may not convince you that little Janie is destined to dance with the National Ballet, remember that through a good balance of listening and creating experiences these responses will be refined. Focus on what your child likes to do (ie. if he wants to listen, fine, eventually he'll become interested in singing along). Of course, any activity is more fun if mom, dad, or other children participate too!

Right from birth, listening to music can be a pleasurable experience. Play the radio, record player or sing to your child daily (he doesn't care if you don't sound like Anne Murray - it's the melody and rhythm that attract their attention). Try contrasting soft, quiet classical sounds with loud, bouncy tunes - how does your baby react? Quiet instrumental music tends to soothe most babies, calming fussiness and putting them to sleep. On the other hand, pop, jazz or folk music provide tempos to bounce or dance to during babies' active play times. Don't overdo the music playing, though. Rather than appreciating the music, we tend to tune out sounds we hear all the time.

When your toddler starts to show signs of interest in singing along with you, you might invest in some children's records. Raffi (Singable Songs for the Very Young, Baby Beluga) and Sharon, Lois and Bram (Smorgasbord, One Elephant, Deux Elephants) are popular artists who have a knack for producing songs that kids and adults can't help but sing along, or bounce or dance along! Remember, that at first your child won't remember the entire song, but can join in on the chorus or repetitive lines. By imitating your version of the actions in a song, your child is reminded of the words that go along with it. You'll find that while you are singing or dancing your toddler will pause to watch your face and body - a good sign that he's enjoying the activity and is trying to learn from you.

Recorded music isn't the only way to develop appreciation for music. Toddlers love to make their own music. Simple musical instruments or musical toys are great for experimenting with, but don't forget the homemade type. Make shakers out of metal cans semi-filled with uncooked rice. Aluminum pie plates with string or black handles make great cymbals. Pots, cardboard boxes or empty tins can be drums while spoons, carrots or wooden dowels make great drum sticks. Children like to experiment with the different sounds produced. If the banging gets to be too much for you, put the instrument on a folded towel to muffle the "music". Have the child beat out the rhythm of a favourite nursery rhyme (eg. Row-row-row your boat or Pat-a-cake). Later you beat out the rhythm and have the child move to the tempo (eg. jump every time you beat, run on continuous beating). Experiment with loud sounds and quiet sounds, fast and slow, regular and irregular - let your imagination go!

aging and the needs of the aged.

A public meeting on alcohol-related problems in the workplace was sponsored by the council in November, 1980.

The need for a speech pathologist was recognized approximately 18 months ago by HCSPC when it conducted a survey of 85 service providers, volunteers, consumers, and community representatives. The council also recognized that Haliburton County could not afford the services of a full time professional.

Consequently, the council assembled three organizations requiring this service, and the speech pathologist was hired on August 31, 1981. To facilitate the planning and coordination of the children's services at the community level, HCSPC formed an advisory board on children's services for Haliburton County. As a result of the

we enjoyed it maybe because we spoke the same language.

Thursday we were scheduled to have a pot luck dinner at the Dysart community centre at the invitation of (to give the full title) the Good Will Haliburton Highlands Senior Citizens' branch of the United Senior Citizens of Ontario in Haliburton. There were 11 of us not including Ivy Shaw and Kathy Carey. Regulations excluded Ivy from driving unless we were willing to exclude insurance on the outing. Les Hughes, the president, was gracious in greeting us to make a total attendance of 76. After grace was said by the president we circled the buffet tables to help ourselves to a sumptuous dinner at which tea or coffee was served, all done in Haliburton hospitality style. A good time, pleasant conversation and a good dinner was had by all. We must thank these good people who cast a vote while we were there to pay our bus expenses.

When the ladies got back they were put to work in the activity room baking Valentine cookies to fill the cookie jar and in preparation to host the minister who conducts the devotions. The bakers were - Maud Weston, Allan Macklin, Vera Griffin, Flossie Burk, Hazel Parish, Beryl Morrow and Nina Hussey in the tutelage of Ivy Shaw and Kathy Carey.

Lieut. Sidney Buell of the Salvation Army in Haliburton conducted the Friday morning devotional period and his officer wife Beverley played the piano. The told us that they have named their newborn baby girl Jennifer May. The theme, the peace of spirit as referred to in the gospel of St. John, ch. 14, v. 26 - a wondrous feeling to have as a gift of God but only bestowed on us if we ask and we are reminded also that in all things we are to give thanks. We enjoyed the after service visit with the Buells over fruit cake and a cup of tea.

In the afternoon the movies were given over to showing slides. The first group was of the Scottish Highlands. Color snaps taken by Haliburton librarian Mary Packard while on a tour of the Edinborough, the Dee, the Ness and the Dysart regions, all very beautiful. Then were shown snaps of a quite memorable outing we took three years ago to the Thousand Islands, Kingston, Morrisburg, and Upper Canada Village.

It was suggested that we comment on the Olsen murders pay off, an orgy of bestial extravagance in murder and torture. You are reminded that this diabolical man was once a tiny human baby and that mental illness made him the criminal. It was too late for any remedial treatment but the physician believes it was preventable. Surely therefore such are best put away and not nurtured in a prison cell. It is one illness that should be terminated in death.

DISTRICT NEWS

Kinmount Korner

by Millie Moss

First of all, I would like to thank everyone who helped in so many ways to make my mother's 86th birthday on Sunday, January 24, such a memorable one. Friends and relatives arrived in the bitter cold, snowy, windy afternoon, from Utterson, Huntsville, Jackson's Point, Cobocok, Norland, in and around Kinmount. Special thanks to Aileen Brown and Christine Bailey for the two beautiful birthday cakes, to Father Brooks who played a very enjoyable medley of tunes including Amazing Grace on the bagpipes which happens to be mom's favourite music. Mom says thanks to all for her lovely gifts. She really did think they'd have a party like this for her 90th or 100th birthday, not just her 86th. She received congratulatory Diplomas from Bill Scott, M.P., John Eakins, M.P.P., Joe Clark, leader of the Opposition and Pierre Trudeau. To top it off, Win Wilson, Joyce Hills and Betty Lonsdale, all of RRI Kinmount, gave her frames in which to hang said diplomas. A granddaughter made beautiful corsages and centre piece for the table and Jessie and Everett Cameron of Cobocok presented her with a book on the history of Victoria County. A card sent special delivery post from Newfoundland had been signed by almost all her relatives down there and that sure tickled her. She'll keep all the many cards and look back with happy memories. I mustn't forget, thanks also, for the generous use of St. James Anglican Church Hall for this very special event.

I had an unexpected but very pleasant first time visit at our house, from Eileen Shepstone last Monday evening. Happy birthday to Ken Young on February 5, Bill Moss Sr. February 7, Marie Card, February 25, and anniversary congratulations to Bill and Marie Card on February 26.

Galway euchre results, Wednesday, January 27, ladies' high: Brenda Longhurst, ladies' low: Maxine Cross, men's high: John Hickey, men's low: Harry Stuart, most lone hands: Leon Wright.

The Kinmount Fair board will be holding their annual meeting Friday, February 5, beginning at 8 p.m. at the town Community Hall.

Kinmount and area Horticultural Society held their annual pot luck dinner, meeting and election of executive plus the fun penny table at the Legion Hall last Thursday night. Due to the weather there were only 30 people present but a very enjoyable time was had by all. President for another year is Mary Hartin Sr., 1st vice president: Guy Scott, 2nd vice president: Clara Watson; Directors remaining for a second year: Flo Schlosser, Margaret Hockley, Isabel Austin, Marguerite Scarlett and Millie Moss. Directors elected for first year: Penny Hartin, Jim Hockley, Pietra Percy, Mary Hartin Jr., and Charlie Molyneux. Auditors: Margaret Telford and Norman Gilmore.

One of the many delicious desserts at the pot luck dinner was prepared by Isabel Austin who was kind enough to share the recipe with those of you who asked. Here it is: Cherry Dessert: Mix enough Graham cracker crumbs and melted butter or margarine together so it's not too greasy, spread in bottom of pan saving some for topping.

Mix about 4 cups of miniature marshmallows with a pint of whipped cream. Pour cherry pie filling over the crumbs (about 2 cans). Then put the whipped cream mixture over the top of the cherry pie filling and sprinkle with the remaining graham cracker crumbs and chill. This is really tasty.

There are some 50-60 people involved in the Kinmount area alone, in broomball and teams have been formed of both the ladies and gents. Some lively times are being enjoyed at the Kinmount arena and Saturday, January 23, the K.K.S.S. downed Galway with a hefty 7 to 1 score. On Sunday, January 24 the K.K.S.S. again came out on top when they won by a score of 9 to 1 over the hockey team. Also on the same Sunday, Daniel's Signs beat out Galway with a close 4-3. On Tuesday, January 26 the hockey team and Galway came up with a 1-1 tie score. There will be two games played every Sunday beginning at 3 p.m., in the Kinmount arena. Why not come out and enjoy the fun?

Mark this date on your calendar: Saturday, February 6 beginning at 1 p.m. the Winter Carnival to be held at the Kinmount arena. Adults $1, teens 75 cents, public and school youngsters 50 cents and the wee tads are free. There will be a snack bar on the grounds. This big day will include sleigh rides, youngsters ice sports, public skating, a turkey shoot and broomball. Then, on Sunday, February 7 the big round robin broomball tournament should be on the way about noon.

There is also public skating at the arena every Friday evening from 7 to 9 p.m., Saturday, 2 to 4 p.m. and Sunday, 1 until 3 p.m. Participation is the name of the game.

Marg Coulter of Minden was the winner of $22.25 in the Kinmount Legion 50/50

Guilford Pulse Beat

by Bill Wood

Last Saturday morning I received a call from "Chip" Barry, informing me that a young girl from the Guilford area was chosen as the Senior Carnival Queen at the Minden Winter Carnival. Barbara Adams, the daughter of Bob and Shirley Adams was the judges' choice of 20 entries. Barbara, or "Fred" as she is called by her friends, is 15 years of age and a Grade 10 student at Haliburton Highlands Secondary School.

Talking with the Queen and her mother I picked up quickly the thrill and excitement that they hold. The parents of this charming young lady have every reason to be proud of her. What next "Fred"?...Miss Ontario?

Speaking of contests, my lady, Jean won a baby beauty contest in Windsor, Ontario, many years ago. Honest! I saw the picture. Her prize?? A canary and brass cage. Just goes to prove, my lady is for the birds.

"Jackie" Barry, who at one time was the Guilford area reporter, visited with her family over the week-end. She is presently working in Severn Falls for a firm where she is the office manager and head bookkeeper. I understand her husband, Ray and the children will be joining her in Severn Falls in the spring if Ray can locate a job in the area.

Ken and Gladys of the Silver Valley Store have moved the log building at the side of the store to the north side of the house. Ken built an archway between the two buildings and they now have a 16 foot by 30 foot family room complete with an acorn fireplace and box stove. Removing the log building also gives the store more parking spaces which it needed badly. Thirty children and parents from the Maple Lake United Church Sunday School spent the afternoon Sunday, January 24 on a toboggan party at the Silver Valley Hills. They were then hosted to lunch and movies at Ken and Lee-Anne Goodall's home. A fine time was enjoyed by youngsters and adults alike.

Talking with Theo Griffin about her husband's bad fall that he had at home early in December, Noel is home after spending considerable time in hospitals in Toronto and Peterborough.

Noel is scheduled for more tests when he has his check-up on February 3 in Peterborough. We all hope he makes a speedy, full recovery. Visitors with Theo and Noel this week-end were Sherman and Mary Griffin of Lindsay.

Household Hint For The Week: Wipe vinyl material with a cloth dampened with Johnson's Self-Stripping Floor Wax Cleaner. It not only removes dirt and grease, it also covers scuffs and scratches, dries to a nice shine and is great for auto seats or inside furniture too.

I tip my 'Good Neighbour' hat to Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Lynn, for taking time to do the weekly grocery shopping for friends of theirs who are unable to do so for themselves...and to the young people in the area who held a Skate-A-Thon last Sunday at the Haliburton arena, to raise money for Norm and Jean Barry. The young people were: Corinne Handy, Sharon Howard, Nicole Kanter, Bethany Wood, and Willy Wuilleme. This group of great kids will be picking up the pledges they received the last two weeks to present to the Barry family. More next week on how much the pledges were for. That is all the news for now, so unt' next week...

Wilberforce News

by J.M. Barker

Gas news is always news these days, so the 'Inter-City Tire' sign that will soon be the Texaco Station in town might interest you. Glen Storey should be moving into the building this week, and is enthusiastic about his plans for the operation. They include opening at 7:30 a.m. seven days a week and providing regular maintenance such as oil changes. His eventual aim is to have full mechanical servicing available, as well as diesel fuel and stove oil. I know at least one vehicle that will appreciate medical help being so near at hand - glad 'yes' is still your No. 1 word, Glen!

Note to all beer bottle collectors: Clem and Eunice Peters no longer operate the return depot. Store 'em up till we know of a replacement, folks.

From empties to the full ones, Craig Walton indicates residence in Wilberforce has more than lived up to his expectations of small-town life. Craig took over the Liquor Store manager in September '81 much to the delight of the Inter-City hockey team who thereby acquired an adept goalie in the deal. Both natives of Hamilton, Craig and his wife Susan had never lived in a small town before, so were pleasantly surprised with the recreational activities available. As enthusiasts of skidoing, fishing, skiing, and of course hockey, they certainly picked the right winter to make this their home.

On the other hand, rural life is no stranger to Craig's business neighbour Kerry Barbour over at the IGA store. Barrie was home base for the last nine years while he was on the road a great deal in the restaurant business. He also has lived in Toronto, but actually grew up in Cobocok where he learned the grocery retail business at his father's store, which he eventually managed for a time. A desire to return to his original trade plus the appeal of small town life prompted Kerry to move to Wilberforce. His wife Sandra and daughters Kelly and Robin will soon be settled into their new home in Tory Hill.

Glamorgan Sr. Citizens' Club met in the Community Centre last Wednesday at noon. The Pot Luck dinner included a plentiful supply of a variety of sumptuous hot casseroles as well as desserts. Jean Frazer was thanked for her capable role as food convener for December and January. Our Highland lass, Dorothy Robertson, arranged a timely display of books of prose and poetry and memorabilia in honor of the birthday of Robert Burns. Scotch music was played throughout the afternoon.

The president, Ivan Hunter, introduced our guest speaker, Sue Cooper, who is a reporter, photographer, and feature writer for our Haliburton County Echo. She listed what she expected a small town community paper to be, namely: informative, interesting, a promotional vehicle of activities, and an advertising agency. In fact it is through the advertising that the paper is able to function financially. Subscriptions don't much more than cover their postage. In her own column she has a chance to be her own person. She traced the different steps in the production of the paper from the collection of news, interviews, feature articles, attendance at council meetings, etc. After determining the number of pages sheets required, arranging and editing, the type is set. It is proof-read again, waxed, and taken to Bracebridge Tuesday night where it is chemically treated and returned Wednesday for mailing or delivery. Sue admitted that this was her first time to address a group. Dorothy Robertson, in graciously thanking her, suggested she might be starting a new career in public speaking. We are proud of our paper and the courage of our convictions of the editor and his staff. We congratulate them on the excellence of their endeavours as recognized in the several awards of merit which they have achieved.

Miss Vaneita Pickens sustained a painful injury when she sprained her ankle recently. We know it requires considerable time before full use is restored and she feels more comfortable. Our community is fortunate in being able to call up on Vaneita when a need arises. Now we hope that the time passes quickly until she is her usual helpful self again.

Mr. and Mrs. Mossom

Robson of Fenelon Falls called upon Mary Hadley last week, as well as on other friends. It was good to see Mossom looking so well after having been hospitalized for a period just before Christmas.

Mrs. Violet Billings has returned to her home after a two month stay in Clinton. Her daughter and son-in-law, Ruth and Robert Madill, with their daughter, Cindy, and two children, returned with her and stayed for the week-end. Violet's two month old great grandson, Gordon, was born while she was there.

because she had no water yet, so they rushed home to have it washed and back to have it set. The second group of ladies, hearing the first one's plight, said "We'll take the water with us, and have our hair done right." So she filled up cans, and jars - whatever they could get. Had their hair all washed and dried, then real nicely set. You know where there is a will, there is a way.

Saturday afternoon, with Muppets on a float ahead of us, named Bert and Ernie, we boarded the bus, and started our journey down through Minden town to the parking lot, to join the Carnival parade. While we were waiting the band came and played. Our float took third prize. We were surprised to see such a large crowd. The Peterborough Canadian Knights and the Oshawa Cadet Band came to the auditorium and played some lively tunes, making a happy ending to a busy afternoon. Until next week.

Chatting with Irene

by Irene Moore

I sure hope that everyone was able to get themselves dug out after that storm on the week-end. When I heard the rain on the roof Sunday night, I thought there would be a lot less snow on Monday, then to wake up to even more snow made me wonder if we will ever find placed to dump it. It is pretty when everything looks so clean and white.

I have great admiration for the County and Township road crews; it must be hard on them to be called out late at night, work a number of hours, go home to grab a few hours sleep, then go back out to finish the job, which may take most of the day. Tuesday being groundhog day, I sure hope it was cloudy, don't you?

Congratulations to Carnival Queen Barbara Adams, and Princess Shelley Bull. There were three excellent bands in the parade. The Pipe and Drum Band; the Canadian Knights Drum Corps; and the Sea Cadets from Oshawa. The last were the ones who took my eye, as they were in the uniform that to me always meant Navy, as it is what my sons wore when they joined; also Sea Cadets have a special spot in my heart as my grandson is a sea cadet now.

The Minden Nursery Play School are very pleased to announce that due to the response they had to their Thursday afternoon skating parties in January they will be having them at the arena every Thursday afternoon in February, from 2 p.m. to 3 p.m. They hope that the skaters will continue to support them.

A number of friends and relatives called on Mrs. Swan Ackers last Thursday to wish her a happy 93rd birthday.

Snow clearing is less taxing on the heart if the snow is pushed aside rather than lifted and tossed. While actively working, don't smoke.

Mr. and Mrs. Phil Robinson are pleased to have their son Bradley home from Europe. He enjoyed his trip very much, and by spending most of his time in Spain, missed most of the bad weather in Europe.

The Thrift Shop at St. Paul's Parish Hall will be open this Friday, February 5, from 1:30 p.m. until 4 p.m.; and will be open every Friday unless otherwise advertised.

There are 50 new tapes now at the Minden library for anyone wishing to use them. Even with the cold weather there has been a lot of flu as well as many colds in the area, so dress warmly when going outside.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Dudman of Markham spent the week-end with Mrs. Grant Hewitt.

Frozen foods that defrost can be refrozen if they still have some ice crystals. This does not apply to sea foods. Fish spoils too fast, so cook and eat.

Mrs. Wm. King had her daughter Mrs. A. England visiting with her recently.

Apple Bread: 1 cup chopped apples (packed); 1/2 cup chopped dates; 1/4 cup chopped nuts; 1/2 cup butter; 1 cup sugar; 1 egg well beaten; 2 cups all purpose flour; 1 tsp. baking soda; 1/2 tsp. salt; 1/2 tsp. cinnamon; 1/2 cup sour milk. Prepare the apples, dates, and nuts. Cream together the butter and sugar and beat until fluffy and light.

Add the well beaten egg and blend until smooth. Stir in the fruit. Sift together the dry ingredients and add alternately with the sour milk. Place in a greased loaf pan and let stand 10 minutes. Bake in a 325-350 degree oven until done, about an hour or less. Leave in the pan 24 hours before slicing. (This came from the Nova Scotia cook book)

Character, like fine old lace, weaves a pattern on each face. What we do, and what we think leaves its imprint, just like ink.

If we fill our lives with hate, ugliness will be our fate. If we give out love and cheer, lines of beauty will appear.

On Friday, February 12, adult movies will be shown at the Library-Cultural centre common room from 2 p.m. to 3 p.m. These will include Heavy Horse Draw; Cape Breton Island; Frost Bite and Snow Blindness; and a visit to Apple Cider Country.

That same evening children's cartoon movies will be shown from 7:30 until 8:30 p.m. These movies are shown free through the courtesy of Minden Library and the County library services.

"If life were just, we would be born old and achieve youth about the time we had saved up enough to enjoy it."

The population of the area is constantly being depleted by sun-seekers taking off for southern climes. But some are also returning after enjoying a session in warmer temperatures. Welcome home to Len and Bea Seedhouse who have just come back from two months in Florida.

The Dorset Snowmobile Club are celebrating St. Valentines Day on Saturday, February 14. To start out with there is a Snowmobile Poker race at 2 p.m. starting at the community centre with hot chili and buns being served at the centre at 4. The fee for the above is $2. After getting warmed up you can go home and get ready for the dance, which starts at 9 p.m. The theme of the dance is red and white so get out your white pants and red shirts or vice versa, however, you will be welcome regardless of attire. The music for the dance will be Sound 101. So you have a day and evening of fun all planned for you.

Once again Bill and Barb Clark are happy grandparents. Their daughter Donna and husband John Ratz became the proud parents of a baby girl named Diana Barbara born Monday, January 18 at Oshawa General Hospital. The new little girl is a sister for Beth, who is 2 years and a few months old. Congratulations to all concerned. The baby weighed 7 lbs., 12 oz.

So far this winter hasn't been congenial to week-end vacationers. It seems that each Friday it starts to storm and continues until Monday. I'm writing this on Saturday and it doesn't look too promising right now. Maybe February will bring nicer weather. We wonder what happened to the January thaw? The bird feeder population is different this year. A few Grosbeaks from time to time and the same with the Blue Jays. Quite a few Chickadees and great hordes of Red Polls. I guess, like people, they change their place of winter vacation.

H.H. To make a perfect heart shaped cake, make two cakes, one round and one square of the same diameter (or you can cut the square one to size) Cut the round one in two and turn the square one with a point at the top, diamond shaped. Then place one half of the round on either side of the top half of the diamond and you have a perfect heart.

They're especially pleased that their acreage is an appropriate setting for their horses which are a major family interest. Both Kerry and Craig feel a big plus with the area is that it is rural enough to produce a friendly environment, yet innovative enough to offer a variety of leisure activities. To the Walton and Barbour families, a warm welcome is extended!

Pine Ridge Club is one of the many ski doo groups that have been taking advantage of local trails this winter. Some of the Coburg members stayed at Elephant Lake Lodge this past week-end with the overflow bunking in at Terrace Inn. This is the third year they've made the outing, with some members making the trip on their machines. Both owners of the two resorts sounded fairly pleased with winter bookings this year; it seems most of their guests are folks who've been there previous years and really enjoy getting out in our beautiful winter surroundings. Sandy up at Elephant Lake says they have a number of cross country skiers as well, while Terrace Inn gets many repeat ice fishermen. All in all this winter is striding ahead of last for our local businesses; keep coming down for two more months, you little snow-flakes!

As for the Inter-City hockey team - super, guys, just super! Friday night their meeting with Whitefield Hardware drew a crowd to Wilberforce reminiscent of the week-end hockey of 15 years ago. And they got their money's worth from the fast, close play that ended with a three to two win for Wilberforce. It was over to Bancroft for the third and deciding game, and no great night Sunday to make the trip. Indicative of the interest that's been created was the number of fans who braved the messy roads to cheer them on. Again there was no disappointment in the quality of play. It was teeter-totter scores right through till Wilberforce broke the last tie during the final five minutes then popped in another for good measure resulting in a seven to five win. It was certainly enjoyable to see the effort and work the team was putting in resulting in close, entertaining hockey. Coming out the victors was icing on the cake. This means they go on to meet Bancroft Sports Centre and that will be at 9:30 Friday, February 5 in Bancroft. Forget Dallas and c'mon out!

Van owners get escalator clause

Independent van owners who transport students for the Haliburton County Board of Education will now get the same cushion from gasoline prices that operators of larger buses receive.

The so called 'gasoline price escalator clause' has been included in recent contracts between the board and operators of full sized school buses, but van operators have den and Elliot and instruct him of the same, and that council does not consider this a township road and it is not being maintained.

William Purcell was informed that the township cannot plow his driveway.

Council will petition the Ministry of Transportation and Communications for payment of final subsidy on 1981 road expenditures.

Don't shut school: Monmouth

If the Haliburton County Board of Education ever decides to shut down Wilberforce Public school, it will have a fight on its hands.

That word came from Monmouth council, which recently sent a letter to the board saying that the municipality does not foresee the school ever being closed.

There are no plans to phase out the school in the near future, although the board continues to monitor the enrolment at Wilberforce and other small schools.

But if the school is considered for closure, "you may be assured of our strong opposition" Monmouth council has informed the board.

The Reeve and Clerk-Treasurer were authorized to sign an "Operation of Account Agreement" with the Bank of Montreal.

County Council was advised that Glamorgan Township is not in agreement with County to remove "Provisional" caption from Haliburton County.

County Council was also advised that Glamorgan township supports County Council's representation as it now stands.

Council advised CN that it would be interested in acquiring the abandoned right-of-way in Lot 1, Concession 15, Township of Glamorgan.

By-law 82-1, a by-law to borrow to meet current expenditures until current revenues are collected.

Change Orders 4, 5, and 6 were approved as issued by Campens Greer Galloway with respect to alterations to Community Centre construction.

The Treasurer was authorized to release the $3000 hold-back on the Community Centre Construction to Stoughton Electric Ltd.

Payment in the amount of $1041 was authorized to John Beachli Construction Enterprises Ltd. for invoice No. 1106.

The roof overhang for the Community Centre was postponed until funding is available.

By-law 82-2, a by-law to appoint a member to the committee of adjustment, was passed.

Lutterworth gets first marine allowance closure

Lutterworth Township is the first township in Haliburton County to receive approval for a marine lake-shore allowance to be closed and sold to an adjacent property owner.

Although the township has asked the Ministry of Municipal Affairs and Housing to approve four applications for closure and conveyance of the shoreline allowances, only one application, made by the late Chris Walroth, has been approved. Township clerk Wayne Hughes said Monday that the Walroth application may have been approved more quickly because an earlier application to close the allowance under an existing building on Walroth's property was approved by the ministry last year. When the new shoreline allowance policy was instituted, the ministry asked that the applicant apply to have the entire shoreline allowance abutting his property closed.

Stanhope township has received approval to close a shoreline allowance but no conveyance of the property has been discussed.

The Lutterworth application began in February, 1981.

draw, Saturday, January 23. Members of the H.C.S.A. club and their families arrived at the Cookout #1 which was a huge success despite the very bad weather. They came from Peterborough, Toronto, Scarborough, Dorset, Halls Lake, Minden, and Gravenhurst to enjoy their big day. The events were organized by Shorty Bowen and his son Scott and tending the fires and cook for the day was Bill Campbell who did a superb job of the hamburgers and hot dogs. Hot beans and coffee were served up by Violet Schroter. Laurie Scott donated and made the delicious doughnuts for the hungry, happy crowd. Total proceeds of the day were given to the H.C.S.A. club. The next cookout #2 will be held at Norm Gimmels' at Denna Lake, Sunday, February 14. A big thank you to all who helped in any way to make this occasion such a success.

A few of our local "girls" have started a crochet class and last Thursday from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m., 6 or 8 of us attended, at Helen Jones' house. It was enjoyable and now we are looking forward to next Thursday.

Take care of yourselves and be here next week. 488-2399.

Gooderham News

Violet reports that the area there has much more snow than we have with blizzard conditions. Although we had snow and cold, we are lucky to be living in Haliburton County, when we read of conditions in other places.

Mr. Mike Collins is still hospitalized in St. Joseph's, Peterborough, while Mr. Bruce Staley is in the Haliburton Red Cross Hospital. However, reports indicate that they expect to be home soon. Richard Madill, young son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Madill, was taken to hospital in Peterborough on Thursday with respiratory problems. We hope he will be recovered soon. Mrs. Bert Madill underwent a cataract operation in Peterborough Hospital on Monday last. Sincere wishes for better eyesight and an early return to your home, Christian!

Don't forget the annual "Stump Jumpers" snowmobile rally on February 13 with rides at 1 p.m. followed by a dinner and dance in the Community Centre. Proceeds go to the Building Fund. It is hoped it will be well patronized.

the Highlands most generous hosts at their resort. The industry has lost one of its most colourful members, but we somehow doubt that Bruce will be satisfied to sink quietly into the background. We look forward to hearing from him from time to time. We wish Bruce and Marion a very enjoyable retirement and Guy and Wendy much success in their new venture.

WEATHER GROUNDS BALLOON

That weather man is out to get us. It didn't stop the main events at the big Minden Winter Carnival, but it did prevent the Skyslider Balloon from becoming of the attractions. The heavy snowfall on Saturday and the high winds on Sunday made it possible to provide many of you with your first view of the huge crowd pleaser, but don't despair, they'll try again at the Haliburton Winter Carnival in three weeks.

As we watched visiting tourists for the fourth consecutive weekend brave wild driving weather to get in and out of the county, we couldn't help but reflect on the tremendous ordeal that these people will go through in order to snatch a couple of days of what most of us take far too much for granted.

SNOWARAMA THIS WEEKEND

The 100 Km ride for "Timmy" takes place this weekend and Lionel Walker is once again the area co-ordinator. Pledge sheets are available at the Chamber office for those of you who have not already filed your sheet or are starting on page 2. The event runs Saturday, February 6, and leaves either Minden arena or Haliburton High School, from 7:30 to 8:30 a.m. This year completely different trails are being used from each of the two starting points which should mean all riders can look forward to smoother rides with less traffic. Tune up your snow machine and fill up your pledge sheets for Timmy and Whipper.

A,H,M holds regular council

At a meeting of Anson, Hindon and Minden council last Wednesday, the following matters were considered:

Dave Willis attended council regarding the noise control by-law 78-51 and requested that it be amended so that his operating hours, which include entertainment, coincide with the licence issued under the liquor licence act. Council agreed to review the by-law in more detail for the next meeting.

Bob Stinson, Manager and Godfrey Saunders, member of the Chamber of Commerce were present to discuss the promotional campaign to be utilized in conjunction with the "Skyslide Ride" hot air balloon. A donation was requested to support the campaign.

Council deferred a decision on this matter.

Godfrey Saunders also discussed the final "Request for Wintario Grant Payment" to the Ministry of Culture and Recreation for the Curling and Recreation Centre.

Council agreed that a joint meeting was required to clarify the amount of municipal contributions.

Council had no objections to any new business being established on property known as part Lot 1, Concession 2, Township of Minden, East side of hwy. 35 and presently owned by Daniel Lang Development Ltd. provided that (a) all such businesses comply with all municipal by-laws (b) all previous agreements with Daniel Lang Development Ltd. be adhered to (c) these applications be subject to the Ministry of Transportation and Communications requirements (d) and individual water shut offs be installed in each individual store or business.

H252/81 was recommended for approval with the following conditions: 1. Payment of $50 administration fee to the Township of Glamorgan; 2. If the final survey determines any portion of the Township road to be on the subject lands, the applicant will provide title to same to the Township.

The water and sewer report as presented and recommended by councillor Pergolas was accepted.

Council condemned the Peterborough - Haliburton Tourism zone study on the basis that sufficient thought and planning was not given to the study and will petition the Ministry of Industry and Tourism to void the report as it is derogatory to the development of the Minden area.

The Townships of Anson, Hindon and Minden support a full county plan for the County of Haliburton as outlined in option #3 of their letter dated January 22, 1982.

Council confirmed that the Common Room of the Cultural Centre will be used by various Senior groups and organizations as specified in the regulations approved by the Cultural Centre coordinating committee and council agreed to contribute up to $1,645 toward paving the walkways and parking lot and also supports the committee's application to New Horizons for a grant for this purpose.

The following persons were appointed to the Art Gallery Committee for the year 1982: Yvonne Guida, Agnes Jamieson, Elizabeth Carrell, Barb Elder, Jean Cox, Gino Ziorjen and Margot Ziorjen.

The following accounts were approved for payment: General, $39,132.00; Water, $16,922.61; and Sewer, $53,096.92.

Galway/Cavendish holds meeting in January

At a meeting of Galway/Cavendish council January 16, the following matters were considered:

W.H. Huels, Township representative on the North Kawartha Planning Board, attended the meeting to discuss three outstanding proposed amendments for the North Kawartha Official Plan. The three amendments are: 1. severances in the Recreation Residential area. 2. infilling lots when applying for severances. 3. to more clearly define the Municipality's intentions with regard to pits and quarries.

Council affirmed their position relating to the severance policy, and general amendments as outlined in Municipal Planning submission of April 9/81 and June 11/81 respectively and the Reeve was authorized to present the Municipality's position on these proposed amendments at the next Planning Board meeting.

Council recommended to Harvey Township that W. Huels be reappointed to the North Kawartha Planning Board as one of the Township's representatives for a two year term. (Jan. 1/82 to Dec. 31/83)

By-law 82-1, a by-law to authorize the borrowing of $100,000, was passed.

By-law 82-2, a by-law to establish a penalty charge for non-payment of current taxes, was also passed.

The penalty charge will be 18 per cent per annum or 1.5 per cent per month on the first day of default and on the first day of each month thereafter.

By-law 82-3, a by-law to provide for interest to be added to tax arrears, was passed.

The interest to be added to tax arrears on the first day of the year in which taxes become arrears will be 1.5 per cent, to be added the first day of each month in which the tax arrears remain outstanding.

The summary on the meeting held with the Ministry of Culture and Recreation on January 4/82 pertaining to the project to upgrade and expand the Galway Community Centre was received.

The project plan for the upgrading and expansion of the Galway Community Centre was approved as amended.

A letter was directed to the County of Peterborough Roads Committee Chairman, requesting that the committee consider supporting the Municipality by directing a letter to the Minister of Transportation and Communications, James Snow, reminding him of his commitment after a personal tour of Highway 507 in 1979, that reconstruction of same would be given high priority in his Ministry's five year plan.

The terms of reference for the Galway Community Centre "Building Committee" were approved as presented.

County status could mean grant

Full county status for Haliburton could mean the loss of a special transportation subsidy paid to the Haliburton County Board of Education.

For approximately 15 years, Haliburton County has been included under a provision that pays additional transportation subsidy to boards operating in territorial districts, municipal districts, and provisional counties, of which Haliburton is the only one in Ontario.

The subsidy is 15 per cent over and above the normal grant rate for transportation. Director of Education J. Douglas Hodgson, who brought the special provision to the board's attention after learning that county council is considering full county status, said the subsidy amounts to between $450 and $500 for each school day.

County council is seeking formal assurance from the province that dropping 'provisional' will not effect grants already paid to municipalities, the county, and the board of education.

Even with the assurance, however, the province could decide to change its approach in a year or two, the director indicated.

The board's annual transportation cost is close to $700,000 a year, and the extra subsidy on that total represents a substantial amount, Hodgson said.

ACLD presents video tape

It has always been difficult to understand why bright, intelligent and even gifted children sometimes have unusual difficulty with such things as attention, memory, reasoning, coordination, communication, reading, writing, spelling, calculation, social competence or emotional maturity.

On Monday, February 8 at 8 p.m. in the library of the Senior Elementary School the Association for Children with Learning Disabilities will help both parents and teachers in their understanding of this problem and so help the children who must learn to cope with it.

Also on the program is a short video tape made by a young student at Trillium School for children with learning disabilities.

Coffee will be served and there will be an opportunity to discuss with others. Everyone is welcome.

Van owners get escalator clause

never formally requested the same benefit. Because of an indirect complaint about the inequity, however, the board decided last Tuesday to apply the escalator clause to van operators as well.

Under the clause, bus operators receive additional subsidies when gasoline prices rise above levels agreed on at the time a contract is signed.

The formula for buses assumes that they use a gallon of gasoline every six miles. For vans, the subsidy will be paid on the basis of 12 miles to the gallon.

Van operators will be included under the clause as of January 1 this year, and the subsidy will be adjusted to reflect the current rate paid to operators of larger buses. There will not, however, be a retroactive subsidy payment.
